TODAY

Not Knocking Society But—
Ellin Mackay Rebels.
Flouts "The Stag Line."
Submarines! Help Them.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

(The opinions expressed in this column are strictly those of Mr. Brisbane and not necessarily in consonance with the policies of The Review-Tribune).

Many rebellions, nearly all justified, stand out in the world's history. The latest is that of a young woman, Miss Ellin Mackay. Her father is rich, he married a Duer, that put him and his money into society. His own charm kept him there.

The daughter, a "rebel" of the moment, was invited everywhere. And her father gave parties, "blowouts," so to speak, that you might really call "parties." That was the rub.

When Miss "Rebel" Ellin Mackay went to the parties she had to look at young men lined up in what she calls "the stag line." That was a little more than she could bear. As a child at her mother's knee, she had learned to recite, "Water, water everywhere, and not a drop to drink."

Now, in her publicly printed rebellion she cries, "Faces, faces everywhere, and not a brain to think."

She says in substance that the scientists struggling, vainly thus far, to create a perfect vacuum make the mistake of their lives when they don't annex a face from the stag line at one of her own father's formal balls. They would get in such a face a perfect vacuum, one in which a feather and a lead bullet would drop 100 feet, start together and hit the floor together, if you know what we mean and understand a little science.

This poor little rich rebel, she writes really well for an amateur and might make a living as a sob sister on a newspaper, does not want to be driven to the cabarets, where imitation Negroes stretch their lips, and imitation Gilda Grays wiggle their hair hips. But what can she do?

Between mixed company at the cabarets, and mixed boredom in the "stag line," she bows to fate, calls a taxi, and "beats it" to the cabaret.

There at least men are men, and if they do have "pathfinders" that appraise their jewels and steal them later, they are at least amusing about it.

Nobody in that stag line even has brains enough to steal jewelry, to say nothing of finding his way to the place where the maid leaves the jewelery on the dressing table.

Do you suggest that the young might compromise and fly from the stag line, go to the library of the Ladies' Colony club, there to read serious books?

You don't understand. You don't know that the only thing in the world more utterly boring than the stag line is the row of ladies at the Colony club. And as for books, the modern girl has read them all, or at least she knows by intimation everything that is in them.

No, while the stag line stands, a row of clothing store dummies, with heads nicely oiled, but not working, there is no place for a beautiful young female rebel at the cabaret.

There the saxophone moans, the lady with the past builds up her future, the saxophone does its stuff. And if

GORDON PIRIE KILLS FRIEND, CONCEALS BODY, GOES TO SHOW

New York Prisoner Murdered "Because He Got Notion."

WALKS TO JAIL

Uses Victim's Money to Buy Sodas for Three Girls.

NEW YORK, Dec. 1.—Gordon Pirie, 20, walked into a police station early today and confessed that he had killed his chum, George Nye, 19, with an ax "because he got the notion."

Police had been searching for Pirie ever since yesterday morning when his 16-year-old sister, Margaret, was startled into hysterics by the discovery of Nye's body under her bed.

Girl Urges Him to Confess.

After striking his victim six times, Pirie told District Attorney John E. McGeehan, he took $5.20 from the dead man's clothing, went out and spent the day playing pool, and ended it by going to a movie and buying ice cream sodas for three girls.

Pirie, according to the authorities, at first told conflicting stories. His confession came after the arrival of a girl friend, Violet Schmidt, whom he had escorted to her home before he had gone to the movies. Miss Schmidt, believing wholeheartedly in her friend's innocense, besought him to tell the truth.

Pirie's story, as retold by the district attorney, was that he arrived home shortly after midnight Saturday and found his friend, Nye, already asleep. He awakened him and they chatter pleasantly of money-making opportunities in Florida whence Pirie had just returned. The pair were alone in the apartment, Gordon's mother being in a hospital and his sister spending the week-end with relatives. Both finally went to sleep.

Hit Sleeping Lad Six Times.

Pirie awoke at 6:30 Sunday morning, went out to buy the Sunday papers. He returned and after reading for a little while fell asleep—it was when he re-awoke that the notion of killing Nye came to him, he said.

Going to the toolbox in the kitchen he got the ax and went back to the bedroom where Nye still lay sleeping.

"I hit him six times on the head and then looked at him to see that he was dead," were the words Pirie used, according to the district attorney.

Nye, being undressed, Pirie clothed him in overalls, washed the dead youth's face with a wet towel, and

SALVATION ARMY ASKS $3,000 FOR CHRISTMAS AND WINTER RELIEF FUND

LEADS CAMPAIGN TO AID NEEDY

Field Major Joseph Hughes.

The Salvation Army's Christmas dinner and winter relief fund campaign in the district, which opened today, is being directed by Field Major Joseph Hughes, who was an overseas welfare worker during the World war.

Women Begin Canvass of Industrial Plants for Money to Meet Needs of District Poor.

STREET KETTLES WILL BE USED

Appeals for Clothing, Fuel and Groceries Pour Into Citadel, Field Major Hughes Says.

The Salvation Army today launched its campaign for funds to finance its Christmas dinner and winter relief activities.

Approximately $3,000 or more will be required to meet the demands for assistance during the holiday and winter seasons according to Field Major Joseph Hughes.

A committee of women today started to canvass in potteries and other factories. Six kettles will be placed on the streets next Saturday—four in the downtown district, one in East End and one in Wellsville. The kettles, in charge of Salvation Army lassies, will be on the streets on every shopping day until Christmas.

Appeals for relief are pouring into Salvation Army citadel daily. Clothing, groceries, and fuel are being furnished to the poor and needy, Major Hughes said.

To Distribute 500 Baskets.

Last year more than 500 baskets, each containing foodstuffs sufficient for two meals for the averaged family, were distributed in East Liverpool, Wellsville, Chester and Newell, and indications are that this number will be required again this year. This relief work alone requires an expenditure of approximately $1,500.

A personal appeal through the mails is to be made next week. Approximately 1,500 prospects, many of them were contributors in years past, are to be urged to support the campaign.

Major Hughes came here last fall, succeeding Adjutant John G. Dean, who was sent to a Cleveland station. Major and Mrs. Hughes are in the receipt of a letter from the Better Akron Federation, made up of representatives of 16 relief, welfare and charitable organizations, expressing "our deep feeling of appreciation for the friendly spirit of co-operation and valuable service that you gave to our community during the many years it was your privilege to serve it."

Daughter Assists in Work.

The letter adds: "We all know of the valuable work that you were doing and of course are sorry to have you leave. Our best wishes and love go with you in your new field of endeavor."

Major and Mrs. Hughes are being assisted at the local corps headquarters by their daughter, Miss Lily Hughes, who has been commissioned a lieutenant. Miss Hughes came here about a year ago and was continued in the local post after the arrival of her parents.

Major Hughes was a welfare worker with the Salvation Army during the World War, having been connected with the First Division for several months.

THREE NEGROES KILLED AND 19 HURT IN STORM

Tropical Disturbance Hits Tampa and Other Florida Cities.

POWER CUT OFF

Gale Topples Work Barracks on Davis Island.

TAMPA, Fla., Dec. 1.—Three negroes dead and nineteen injured represented the toll today of Tampa's worst storm in four years. The dead and injured were taken from the debris of work barracks on Davis Island, which were blown over by a 48 mile gale.

With power off, traffic lights out the street cars halted in many places, Tampa business was practically at a stand still today.

Other than a small blaze which firemen battled throughout early morning, preventing its spread to neighboring houses, the mishap on Davis Island was the only disastrous effect of the storm felt here.

All wire communications with Tampa from the north were cut off except for one commercial wire.

EUROPE'S STATESMEN ATTACH SIGNATURES TO NEW CHARTER OF PEACE

Diplomats of Continent, Meeting in London, Agree to Forget Animosities and Respect Rights of Border Nations After Austen Chamberlain Lauds Agreement Drafted in Swiss Town.

HOPE EXPRESSED THAT TREATIES MEAN MORE AUSPICIOUS PERIOD

Artificial Sunlight, Which Suddenly Fails in Midst of Ceremonies, Comes on Again Just as Germans, First to Act, Are Called Upon to Sign Epoch-making Documents.

By H. K. REYNOLDS.

LONDON, Dec. 1.—The Locarno security pact, Europe's "Charter of Peace," was signed in the reception hall of the foreign office by the leading statesmen of the continent at 11:25 this morning.

The ceremonies opened promptly at 11 o'clock when Austen Chamberlain called the assemblage to order and made a brief introductory speech, lauding the treaties and expressing the hope that they meant more auspicious times for Europe. Other delegates also made brief addresses.

The room where the treaties were being signed was flooded with artificial sunlight, which suddenly failed in the midst of the ceremonies, but just as the Germans were called upon to sign the treaty, their signature being first as the treaties were signed alphabetically in accordance with the French spelling, the light came on again.

Deposit Treaties at Geneva.

After the signing of the treaties the Germans were handed a formal note from the Allies, setting forth the allied interpretation of article XVI of the League of Nations covenant as agreed at Locarno.

The treaties signed today, with seals affixed, will be deposited with the League of Nations at Geneva.

Foreign Minister Chamberlain addressed the assembly in French, and Chancellor Luther of Germany, who responded, spoke in English. Brief speeches of congratulations were made by M. Briand, Count Scialoja, and M. Vandervelde.

The security pact was passed about the horseshoe table for signing, and when it had been signed the accompanying treaties were passed about.

ROTARY NO PLACE FOR INTOLERANCE OR BIGOTRY, SAYS DISTRICT GOVERNOR

Leonard Skeggs, Youngstown, Making Annual Visit Here, Outlines Club's Aims.

Rotary is no place for intolerance or bigotry, Leonard Skeggs, Youngstown, district governor of the 21st district of Rotary, told 50 members of the local club and their guests at the Y. M. C. A., at noon today. It was Skeggs' annual visit to the East Liverpool Rotary club.

Skeggs, who is secretary of the Youngstown Y. M. C. A., was introduced by Malcolm Thompson, club vice-president, who presided in the absence of B. J. Ross, Wellsville.

The chorus singing was led by Attorney Blaine H. Cochran. Music was furnished by an orchestra made up of Wellsville high school students, engaged by Ross for the luncheon. Skeggs conferred with members of the board of directors following the luncheon.

The aims and objects of Rotary were discussed by Skeggs.

"Rotary will increase your broadmindedness if you are to receive the full benefits of the organization,' he said. "There is no place in Rotary for intolerance or bigotry. I am a Protestant and a Mason but I appreciate the friendship of my Jewish and Catholic friends. In a club in this district recently chartered, the president is a Presbyterian minister, the vice president is a Jew, while the secretary is a Catholic. That's the kind of an organization Rotary is.

YULETIDE WELFARE WORK DISCUSSED AT LIONS' CLUB DINNER MEETING

Committee is Named to Devise Means of Financing Movement in Behalf of Needy Families.

Christmas relief plans were discussed at the dinner meeting of the Lions' club, held in the banquet hall of the Y. M. C. A., last evening.

Last year, the club furnished dinners to a score or more needy families in this city, but inasmuch as the Salvation Army and church organizations will handle this form of relief during the approaching holiday season other form of welfare work will be taken up.

The suggestion was made that the club furnish blankets to families in need. A committee, consisting of Joseph Smith, Charles Kidd and Attorney W. S. Stevenson was named to devise ways and means of raising funds with which to finance the relief work and make recommendations at the next meeting.

In the absence of President Emmett Myler, who is ill, Vice President Harry Brokaw presided. Moses E. Eppley, Chester, was elected third vice president to fill a vacancy. Charles Kidd and Attorney G. L. Brokaw were chosen directors for two-year terms.

Attendance prizes, furnished by Joseph Smith and Charles Kidd, were awarded to Attorney Harry and G. L. Brokaw. K. W. Gero reported for the boys' committee of which he is chairman; W. S. Stevenson, for the blind relief committee and H. D. Rist, for the moral code committee.

Electricity to Move Half of R. R. Traffic Soon, Says Expert

NEW HAVEN, Conn.—Half of America's railroad traffic will be moved electrically in the next generation, according to F. H. Shapard, expert on traction, in an address made to Yale engineering students here.

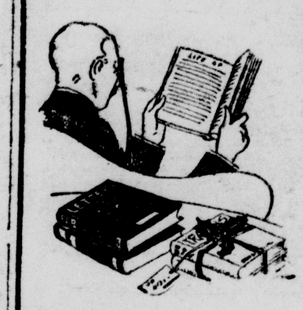

There are 175,000 miles of railroad, Mr. Shepard said, "which will never develop into main thoroughfares of traffic and a considerable proportion will be supplanted by automotive vehicles because of the heavy cost of steam operation.'

"Out of 200,000 miles of railroad now operated in this country, about 25,000 miles carry the greater part of the total traffic movement, and it is on these busy lines that electrification may be expected. The demand for traffic on these lines doubles every ten or twelve years and will undoubtedly continue to increase at about this same rate for a long time in the future.'

This Berkey & Gay Bedroom Suite at $259.00

A Very Exceptional Value in Quality Furniture

WE URGE you to inspect this charming bedroom suite at the earliest opportunity.

Created by and bearing the coveted shopmark of Berkey & Gay, we are not extravagant in calling it the outstanding value of the year in the quality field.

The lines are exquisite in their simplicity. The chief wood used is straight grain American walnut, with butt walnut figuring. All drawers are dust-proof and especially designed to prevent sticking. They are made of solid mahogany, with the exception of the bottoms, which are three-ply to prevent warping.

The toilet table is equipped with a sliding, partitioned tray of solid mahogany for holding pins, nicknacks, etc.—a convenience detail which is characteristic of Berkey & Gay design.

A beautiful, rich, mellow color tone has been especially developed for this suite, with a varnish finish, carefully rubbed and shaded by hand to a dull, glossy, velvety smoothness.

While The AVERILL is the least expensive of the new Fall offering of popular-priced Berkey & Gay bedroom and dining room suites, there is a wide choice of other popular values now on display on our floors.

This Shop Mark is inset in every Berkey & Gay production. It is the customer's protection when buying and his pride ever after

GERMS LOSE POWER IF OUT OF PLACE

Russian Scientist Makes Valuable Discovery.

Washington.—Germs of diseases that are deadly to an animal or a human being if they find their way into the part of the body they usually afflict, may be entirely harmless if they are planted in another organ or tissue. Doses of anthrax germs a thousand times larger than an ordinary fatal injection have been introduced into the bodies of guinea pigs with no more effect than so much salt water; yet if the slightest trace of the fluid containing them found its way into a scratch on the skin, the animal very quickly died.

These experiments, which promise revolutionary results in the sciences of bacteriology and pathology, are being conducted at the Pasteur institute in Paris by Dr. A. Besredka, a young Russian scientist, according to Dr. Erwin F. Smith, pathologist of the United States Department of Agriculture, who has just returned from a tour of inspection through European laboratories.

Doctor Besredka, he says, has discovered an entirely new principle in bacteriology which has been named "local immunity." According to this principle, disease-causing organisms are frequently quite impotent to do harm away from their usual habitat.

Anthrax, for example, is always an affliction of the skin and surface tissues. Doctor Besredka devised means for planting cultures of the germs deep in the muscular tissue, in the lungs and elsewhere in the bodies of guinea pigs. Aside from a little inflammation, probably due to the mechanical irritation of the instruments used, the animals showed no signs of harm from the usually deadly organisms.

Less serious skin infections, like those caused by staphylococcus, the germ of boils, were shown to act in the same way.

Doctor Besredka's discoveries have already become of practical importance in medicine. After showing that susceptibility to bacterial infection was local, the Russian scientist also showed that immunity could be conferred more effectively by serums and other preventive means if applied equally directly to the regions usually attacked by the disease.

Since typhoid fever is a disease of the digestive tract, Paris physicians are now following Doctor Besredka's principle, and administering antityphoid serum through the mouth rather than by means of injection into the arm. Doctor Besredka claims that when administered in the ordinary way the serum gets no chance to act until the blood has carried it from the muscles of the arm into the intestinal tract.

UNIVERSITY NEEDS STATED TO BOARD

Arguments and data for an expansion of the facilities of West Virginia university were presented to the members of the state board of education at its meeting in Morgantown a few days ago. Requests for greater schools of medicine and journalism appeared to be urgent, Secretary J. F. Marsh said yesterday.

Dan J. N. Simpson, of the college of medicine, said there were nearly 800 applicants for admission to this year's first class, though but 60 were admitted, applicants from West Virginia being given preference in this selection. The enrollment for this year is 117. After completing the two-year course, they will have to enroll at some other medical school to continue their studies. It was further pointed out that the state needs about 50 new physicians every year to replace those who die or retire or move away and to care for the needs of an increasing population.

EAST LIVERPOOL — AMERICA'S POTTERY CENTER

TUESDAY, DECEMBER 1, 1925.

Blazing Path To Health

The City Federation of Women's Clubs today launched its annual sale of Christmas seals—a campaign which finances the determined fight that is being made on tuberculosis in the East Liverpool district and, also, contributes to the fund for the nation-wide educational movement to check the toll of human life claimed every year by this malady.

With a score of booth chairmen and other co-workers assisting, Mrs. Louis Steinfeld, chairman of the health committee, and Mrs. Charles Larkins and Mrs. John S. Goodwin, secretary-treasurer of the Club Federation, will endeavor to raise a $3,000 quota in the city during the next ten days. Of this sum, $2,400 is to be retained for local needs, mainly to pay the salary of a public health nurse and provide financial aid for sufferers from the white plague.

The importance of investing in health missives, which should be used on Yuletide letters and parcels, is attested by the results obtained since this movement was launched in the state by the Ohio Public Health association, of which the Club Federation is a unit. Within less than two decades the death rate from tuberculosis has been reduced from 150 deaths per 100,000 population in 1910 to 81.7 in 1924. The disease, once the chief cause of death, has been relegated to fifth place.

However, tuberculosis has not yet been conquered. It still causes more than 5,000 deaths annually in Ohio—all of them preventable. And to reduce this appalling toll, greater and more effective organization—more people interested and more trained workers for the intelligent direction of effort—is needed.

People of East Liverpool are now asked to shoulder their share of the task of helping to check the inroads of the malady. And one way to aid this commendable movement is to purchase Christmas health seals. It is an investment that pays dividends in the form of better health.

Faith In France

A momentous event occurreed in the German reichstag the other day. The majority voted to approve the Locarno agreements—but that was not it. The spirit was more important than the vote.

Foreign Minister Stresemann stood up and told his fellow-Germans, "We have confidence in France!" And as an American correspondent reports the scene, "A German reichstag which has echoed for 11 years with denunciations of the reich's Latin neighbor roared with applause from the bulk of the deputies on the floor and from the galleries, jammed to the choking point with representative Germans."

Little sign there of the "will to revenge" which followed the "will to conquer."

And why does Germany frankly echo this confidence in France professed by the brilliant Stresemann? Because, as he himself explains, "The France of today is not the France of Poincare."

The French sword-rattling has ceased. France at last is ready to conciliate her enemy and co-operate in the peaceful restoration of Europe. Briand stands for common sense and good will.

This is the big fact which emerged from Locarno and has been evident since in all the confusion of French politics. And if Germany can "trust France," the rest of the world can.

World Court Next

It looks now as if America is going to join the world court, and that right soon. Opposition continues in various quarters, but a canvas of the senate is said to show that the advocates of adherence have to two-thirds majority.

There is anticipation of a heated and prolonged debate when the issue it taken up on December 7. The irreconcileables, headed by Senator Borah, are expected to use all their ammunition. The lines are laid for a big battle. But the Washington correspondents foresee almost certain victory for President Coolidge and the many powerful groups, public and private, who have long urged this step.

Possibly less senatorial opposition will develop than is now looked for. The European situation is greatly changed since the last debate on this issue. The Locarno agreements, ratified in London, and the accompanying evidences of good will and co-opera between Germany and the allies, seem to show a Europe sincerely turning toward peace, disarmament and mutual helpfulness. America can co-operate more freely and safely with the other powers in such a mood.

After Locarno, American participation in the international court of justice seems the next obvious step. The senate can hardly help sensing that, as the public does.

Speaking of the college girl smoking problem, we s'pose the new Duke university in North Carolina will insist on the girls rolling their own.

Back to normalcy in France. France is always normal when changing governments.

In a little while every American family will take the money saved by federal tax reduction and spend it on a better car.

"Red" Grange is proving again that higher education pays.

NEW YORK DAYBYDAY

By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, Dec. 1.—The Aquarium is ofted regarded by New Yorkers as a yokel rendezvous. Perhaps this is because of many signs: "Beware of pickpockets." Leather snatchers reap a big harvest there while unsuspecting victims rivet their attention on the glass-encased grottoes.

There are, strangely enough, thousands of New Yorkers who have never seen the Aquarium, yet few visitors fail to make the visit to Battery Park. Hours may be spent in the aquarium with pleasure and profit but the ancient admonition endures: "Beware of pickpockets.

Keepers will tell you scarcely a day passes that some wild-eyed visitor does not clap his hand to his pocket and suddenly grow white. Few of them report the offense to police. It might get in the papers back home.

The tanks of fish offer an incongruous phantasy. There are those that change color with moments — wondrous shades of blue, sea green, pink and yellow. Fish with tails to shame a peacock. The green moray, like a huge eel, apparently in eternal struggle to breathe.

The tiny, perky sea horse with heads so startlingly like that of Old Dobbin, and moving bolt upright. Angel fish, with trusting fawn-like eyes. Sea robins. The albino brook trout, which occurs not only once, but regularly, among 100,000 fishes. (No, we do not know who counts them).

Parrot fish with marvelous fins. Mudfish with brilliant sapphire eyes. And, of course, the larger specimens, such as sea lions, alligators and turtles, and that most hideous exhibit of all—the only toadfish. But mostly you see beauty and color.

The Aquarium is one of the city's most historic buildings, built in 1811. It was then Castle Garden, where Jenny Lind made her American debut. It was here Morse first gave public demonstration of the telegraph. It has been the scene of receptions to Lafayette and Presidents Jackson, Tyler and Van Buren.

Uptowners, indeed, often neglect the rare interest the lower tip of the island affords. In many ways narrow, bubbling Nassau street is the sprightliest thoroughfare in town. Travelers have compared it to odd corners one comes upon suddenly in London. Pedestrians overflow the sidewalks and bulge into the street. The shops are a hodge-podge—cafeterias with dance orchestras, cellar luggage caves, upstairs pool parlours, while-you-wait opticians, pastry shops, stationery stores, sidewalk necktie and sock stands and dinty rooms heralding "Dress Suits and Cutaways For Rent." Nassau seems to be last stand of the Apollo-esque gents who serve as window demonstrators—actors in the peripatetic pantomime of pants pressing, collar hooking and necktie adjustment. All these sights are clotted together in a struggling heap, and from 9 in the morning until 6 at night, Nassau is a hubbub of life, but after dusk it is entirely deserted.

On State street, near the Battery, is the Mission of Our Lady of the Rosary for Immigrant Girls. It is the most spotless building in town, frame, with ivy-clad porches and snowy white curtains. Here timid immigrant girls are given hearty welcome and haven. It has furnished inspiration for a book —Bunner's "Story of a New York House."

No. 3 Bridge street is where Washington Irving spent his final days. It is a short, rather gloomy thoroughfare, yet until recently it was the home of Henry L. Doherty, the oil magnate, until he migrated to a skyscraper roof bungalow on State street.

The best view of Miss Liberty is in Battery Park. She has been subjected to much jest of late, but I do not believe anyone has gazed upon her for the first time without a slightly quickened pulse. She has a way, this lady.

HASKIN'S LETTER

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN

Golden Rule Sunday.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 1.—Golden Rule Sunday will be observed this year on Dec. 6. Fifty-one nations joined in the observance of the day last year and as a result the relief work of the International Near East association received the greatest impetus it has ever had.

The immediate beneficiaries of International Golden Rule Sunday are the orphaned children of the Near East. There are 35,000 of them now under the care of the Near East Relief, and for them 27,825,000 meals must be provided for the next year. In addition there is an even larger number of other orphans, half-orphans and destitute children in broken families and refugee camps who should be fed, and directors of the work say that many of them will undoubtedly die during the severe weather of the approaching winter if additional relief is not forthcoming.

Charles V. Vickrey, president of the Near East Relief, points ou that these children are international wards, being a part of the awful legacy of the disastrous World war.

"They are not only without father, without mother, and without known responsible relatives," says Mr. Vickrey, "but many of them are without country. They have no legal claim upon the land or the resources of the over-populated, war-ravaged, impoverished territories to which they have been exiled. They are as innocent of any crime and are as much entitled to daily food and other necessities of life as are the children in our own homes. Their parents were killed or died of persecution, deportation, exposure, and starvation in connection with the various disasters of the recent war, from the full crushing burden of which we, in America, were graciously spared. Many of the parents of these children sacrificed their lives in the defense of the principle of religious liberty."

Practically all of the children are under 16 years of age, and most of them are under 12 years. All of them are too young to be thrown upon their own resources, and it is recognized that they would be helpless and hopeless were it not for the work that is being carried on in the spirit of the Golden Rule.

Conditions in One Orphanage.

About 5,000 of these children are being cared for by the Polygon Orphanage at Alexandropol. A vivid picture of the conditions surrounding the work there was written by the directors of this orphanage on Golden Rule Sunday last year.

"It is warmer tonight—only 25 degrees below zero," he wrote. "There is ten feet of snow on the ground, and the wolves can be heard at night. The children have no means to dry their wet feet. Under these conditions can you imagine what it means for them to give up voluntarily, as they have just done, nearly 50 per cent of their bread ration for use among the needy children in the refugee camps?"

It is claimed that at least a million people are living in the Near East today who would have perished but for the relief work of Americans. Of these million lives saved, a disproportionately large number are said to be children. Many of them have already been placed in positions of self support and usefulness, and more than 12,000 were graduated from the orphanges last year. Children from these institutions are also being placed in homes or apprenticed in industries as rapidly as possible and during the past year 13,862 were thus placed or otherwise discharged.

In the Caucasus the orphans, under the direction of agricultural experts sent out from the United States, are cultivating and developing 22,000 acres of land which the government has placed at the disposal of the Near East Relief, tax and rent free. The other boys, on a mode ldairy farm, provide the dairy products for a near-by orphange family of 12,000 children.

In the Aegean Sea, on the island of Syra, made famous in the songs of Homer, is an orphanage colony of 1,800 boys and girls occupying a group of stone buildings constructed by the older boys under American supervision.

Practically all trades and induustries are represented in the activities of the orphanages. The girls make or re-make much of the clothing, besides producing laces, embroideries, rugs, and other articles for sale through Near East Industries. The boys do blacksmithing, shoemaking, carpentering, tinsmithing, tailoring and agricultural work, and also make pottery. Bookbinding, printing, commercial training, and nursing are among the trades and professions taught the older orphans before they are graduated or apprenticed in self-support.

President Coolidge Approves.

"This expression of brotherhood inevitably has a beneficial effect upon those who give as well as those who receive," said President Coolidge in expressing his approval of the Golden Rule movement. "As practical help is the best expression of friendship, I feel that the aid which we may give out of our prosperity to those impoverished by war may be of the utmost value in the promotion of international good will. The consistent observance of Golden Rule Sunday can not but help to bring about the application of the Golden Rule itself to the misunderstandings of nations and individuals.

"I earnestly hope that the voluntary observance of this day may become increasingly prevalent, in the homes of America and throughout the world."

The main feature of Golden Rule Sunday is the serving of a dinner of the limited and simple character that is the daily lot of the Near East orphans. The money saved on such a dinner, it is urged, should be contributed to the relief work. Golden Rule dinners are served not only in homes, but in hotels, clubs and cafes.

A way has been developed by the organization whereby orphan children may be individually supported by an American sponsor without involving the problems of actual orphan adoption.

An Orphan Sponsorship in the Near East provides complete orphanage care—food, shelter, clothing, and industrial or agricultural training that will insure self support at the age of 16 for some orphan boy or girl. A photograph, together, with the name and history of the boy or girl being so cared for and with regular reports of progress are sent to those who undertake the support of a child under this plan.

The sum of $2 will supply 40 meals for one of the Near East orphans, $5 will insure his support for a month, and $60 will provide for him for the full period of a year. One hundred dollars will support, educate, and give industrial training to a child for one year and $500 will make it possible for a ten-year-old child to be trained until he is graduated into self-support at the age of 16. One thousand dollars will care for and educate a "baby" in the Bird's Nest Orphanage until the age of 16.

Typical meals served to the children in the Near East institutions consist of cocoa and bread for breakfast, beans and bread for dinner, with lamb stew once weekly, and grits, stewed apricots and bread for supper.

Relieved of pain in time to go to party

BACKACHE GIVEN QUICK RELIEF

Tried simple home treatment and pain stops

An aching back is often the result of tired, over-strained muscles, and can be given quick and complete relief with a very simple home treatment.

"I had such a backache I didn't know what to do," writes a New York woman. "I looked through my medicine cabinet to see if I could find something to help me—and there was a bottle of Sloan's Liniment. I used it, and in half an hour I was better. The next day I went to a big engagement party. Now, when anyone has a pain, I say 'use Sloan's.'"

The marvelous effectiveness of Sloan's is due to the stimulating effect that it has upon the circulation. Straight to the sick, aching tissues, it sends a healing tide of fresh new blood—clears out the trouble—kills the pain.

So pleasant and clean to use, too. You don't even have to rub. Just pat it on gently and you will get immediate results. All druggists—35 cents

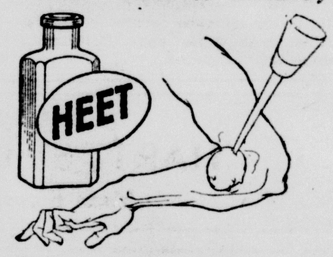

Wild Cats and Black Squirrels Sign of Cold Spell in Connecticut

HARTFORD.—Wild cats have been more numerous in Connecticut this fall than at any time in generations, according to statistics on file with the Fish and Game commission's office here. One genuine specimen was shot on the Hartford meadows with the city sykscrapers in easy view.

Several hunting dogs have been injured in battles with the animals in Eastern Connecticut, two dogs being killed outright. Poultry has become a steady diet with the wild cats until farmers are up in arms over a wide extent of territory. With the wild cats appear black squirrels for the first time in a long range of years and old timers believe a cold winter is indicated.

METHUSELAH'S WIFE

THE STORY OF A GIRL WHO MARRIED FOR MONEY — BY EDGAR POE NORRIS

TWELVE.

Rebellion had at last surged up in Laurel Todd Harwood. Until now she had been able to keep her temper when Noble found fault. She pulled her arm free from his grasp and pushed over to the end of the seat to stare out into the darkness, struggling to check the tears that were moistening her eyes.

"Why, dearest, I'm not criticizing you! I'm just—" He was becoming angry now. "I—oh, damn!" He lapsed into silence with a shrug. "All women are alike," was the thought that was upon his mind. His first wife had been the same way, never willing to accept a suggestion.

Laurel wished now that they were going to a supper club—any place but the hotel.

When they at last attained the suite, she slumped down into a chair in the parlor and buried her face in her hands, dizzy with headache. Noble thaught she was crying, and stood regarding her, fuming with rage and regret. He hated tears. His first wife had used them copiously.

"Dearest, I didn't mean to hurt your feelings. I wasn't criticizing, I was just telling you. I thought you wanted me to tell you about such things. I—"

She raised up, her eyes blinking in the light. "I'm sorroy I lost my temper, dear. Let's not say anymore about it." Her lone desire was to get to bed.

He could see now that her eyes were dry, and felt better. "Your maid probably is alsleep, but we can get her up, if you need her."

"Never mind." She walked wearily into her dressing-room, his eyes following her.

For several minutes he stood lost in thought, then he shrugged, and directed his steps into his own dressing-room, pulling at his cravat and unbottoning his collar as he walked.

Laurel was awakened by Noble's kiss. "I must go now, dear. I shall probably telephone you before you leave the hotel. If you go out after lunch, call the hotel about 3 o'clock there probably will be a message for you.' She vaguely understood what he said, and nodded. Her head felt twice its normal size, and her mouth was parched.

When Noble had gone, the maid entered and opened the curtains, flooding the room with the mid morning sun. Laurel's strap-watch showed that it was 10 o'clock. She looked hazily around the room, stiffling a yawn, Her clothing was in a disordered heap upon a chair.

The maid offered a glass of water, and stood waiting with a dressing gown. "Madame's bath is ready," she announced.

"Please get me all of the morning papers now." Laurel grabbed at the first subterfuge she could thing of to get the maid out of the room. She didn't want her to see that she had slept in a chemise; she had been too worn out when she retired to care.

When the maid returned Laurel was in the bath, feeling guilty. She was still there, lolling luxuriously in the scented water when the maid answered a telephone ring and reported that Mr. David Gaines was on the wire.

"David Gaines?" It took her a moment to remember. "Oh, yes."

"There is a telephone plug in the bathroom if you wish to talk with him.'

"Very well," she acquised awkwardly. She wasn't sure she wanted to. What could he have to sey.

"Good morning, I'd like to suggest a drive in Central Park as a wonderful bracer," the voice said.

It amused Laurel to be lying there, a snowy white instrument in her dripping hands, talking to a young man.

"It sounds interesting, but I have another engagement."

"This afternoon, then?'

"No, Mr. Gaines, I'm afraid not. Goodbye." That was the way to treat such men. She remembered those glances of his.

She decided not to tell Noble about the invitation.

As she breakfasted she glanced casually through the morning dailies she had sent for. She never read newspapers much, and now she went at it in haphazard fashion, absorbing a few lines here and a few lines there. She was startled when her eyes were drawn to the names, "Mr. and Mrs. Noble Harwood." They apeared in a small item in the Times about the Buckmaster dinner. Alert with interest now, she searched the society columns of other papers. There was a small item in the Herald-Tribune, too. The World did not mention the dinner, and neither did the American. The small-sized Daily News had four lines. She tore out the pages in which the items appeared, and laid them aside, with the idea of sending them to her mother. She couldn't help deriving satisfaction from seeing her name in the New York society columns. How far away Central City seemed.

When Noble telephoned her just before noon, the newspaper items were the first thing she told him about.

"Looks like I might be tied up all afternoon, honey dear," he declared. "I'm awfully sorry. Important conference I wasn't expecting. I'll surely be at the hotel by four or five o'clock, but you go out where you like."

"Oh, dear! This is two afternoons in succession."

"I know, dear, and I'm sorry. She detected an impatience in his tone.

"Shopping? I haven't any money."

"Oh, that's right! How careless of me." There was a pause. "I'll telephone the hotel cashier and have him send you some money. Goodbye."

She got up from the instrument in anger. Again! She was sure that he was going back to the place where he had spent the previous afternoon .... Now she wished that she had accepted David Gaines' invitation.

When she left the hotel, it was on foot. There was a hundred dollars in her purse. Two blocks and she was on Fifth avenue. The waves of surging humanity carried her on. At a corner she turned uncertainly. The sign over a motion picture theatre caught her attention. There she spent the early part of the afternoon. Back on Fifth avenue, she walked along uncertainly, without interest in windows or faces. She was thinking of Noble, picturing him with another woman Suddenly she became conscious of being followed. She dared not look at the man. The first taxi she saw she hailed, and fled to the hotel. There, sick at heart, she awaited Noble Harwood's coming.

Girl Held as Bombing Queen Left Farm for "Bright Lights"

"I am not hard boiled. I simply did blindly what my big blond viking told me to," says Mrs. Lena Schrock Rice, held in Chicago as "queen of a bombing trust," following her arrest in company with Fred Wamquist and another man at the scene of a bomb explosion, one of a series which had caused a reign of terror around Chicago. She swears she was unaware of what the men were doing. Photos show Mrs. Rice, Wamquist, "her big blond viking," above and Joe Avanzio, the other man arrested, as they appeared in jail. She left her husband on a farm to be with Wamquist.

Loneliest Man Found Studies Bird Life In Shetland Islands

EDINBURGH—The loneliest man in Britain has been discovered. He is Henry Edwardson, who for 37 years, has been a bird-watcher occupying a tiny wooden hut on the top of the rocky crags of Herma Ness, Unst, the most northerly inhabited island in the Shetland Islands.

For five months in every year for the past 37 years Edwardson has been the most notherly inhabitant of the British Isles, where in his tiny hut, he has observed the comings and goings, habits and customs, of the several breeds of birds inhabiting the island, which some years ago was declared a bird sanctuary.

Smokers in Kansas Use Mexican Weed; 3 Insane

Wichita, Kan.—Brought from its natural habitat by Mexicans and transplanted in the warm soil of southern Kansas, the marihuana weed has become the latest drug menace with which authorities in Kansas have to cope.

First intelligence of the growth, sale and use of the drug came when physicians at the Santa Fe hospital at Mulvane had three cases of insanity caused from use of the weed. One of the surgeons who had passed several years in northern Mexico, where marihuana smokers are numerous, recognized the symptoms and an investigation was started to determine the source of the drug.

The trail led to Wellington, from whence the insane patients had been sent to the hospital.

It was discovered the weed was being cultivated in the Mexican quarter and had even spread to nearby cornfields.

The Mexican custom is to dry the leaves and roll them into cigarettes.

An effort is being made at Wellington to destroy all growing plants. Federal laws do not prohibit the growth or sale of the drug, but a state law does.

Never Spend for foods without flavor

In oats, get "Mother's Oats flavor," which is true Scotch flavor

THE same money spent by one woman will buy charming, attractive meals. By another, "just meals."

Flavor is the big point in all foods. And above all, in breakfast oats. The difference is great and marked.

Oats should have a certain toasty, Scotch flavor; in this country known as "Mother's Oats flavor."

No other brand but Mother's Oats has it. Mother's Oats exclusive milling of richest, plumpest grains alone attains it. Scores have tried. None have imitated it.

So it's important to say Mother's Oats in buying oats. For in Mother's Oats, you get the true Scotch flavor that oats, originally a Scotch dish, should have.

Quick Mother's Oats cooks in 3 to 5 minutes. That's faster than toast.

Due to Mother's Oats milling methods, it supplies, too, the "roughage" you need to make laxatives seldom necessary.

RESERVOIR JOB BILL UP AGAIN

A measure to create the office of reservoir superintendent will probably come up before solons tonight for a second reading.

A movement to pass the ordinance under suspension of rules as an emergency bill at last week's session, failed, and the measure was given its first reading.

The duties of the superintendent, as proposed in the measure, would be to patrol the reservoir site, and take charge of operations at the big dam. He would qualify for the post under civil service regulations.

In voting against the measure, Solons Peters and Nicholson asserted that, in their opinion, the civil service phase of the question was not desirable.

'Is Zat So,' New American Comedy, Coming to Ceramic

Enroute From Chicago to Boston, New York Theatrical Success Will be Presented Here Friday, Dec. 11.

"Is Zat So?" the new American comedy, which scored a triumph at the Thirty-ninth street theatre in New York last winter and which was later moved to the larger Chanin theatre to accommodate the throngs that flocked to see it, will be the offering at the Ceramic theatre, Friday evening, Dec. 11, where it will be presented by the specially organized company of which Richard Taber, one of the authors, is a member, and which recently closed a six months' run in Chicago and will shortly open in Boston for an indefinite engagement.

"Is Zat So?" is from the pens of James Gleason and Richard Taber and is being directed by Earle Boothe in association with the Messrs. Shubert. It is said to be a clean comedy, with an original theme, witty lines, drolleries and mirth-provoking situations. It concerns the fortunes of a New York youth who tries for prize boxing honors in the hope that he may become the next lightweight champion of the world.

As the story opens the boxer and his manager are found on a park bench in the upper regions of Fifth avenue, lamenting the fate which had lost them a contest of the previous evening. They have about decided that life holds nothing in store for them, when a slightly inebriated gentleman of social standing and wealth approaches them with a proposition that they enter his home as butler and second man.

From this point of the story, until the final curtain, there are a series of situations well calculated to keep an audience in an uproar of laughter. There is a plot and counter-plot, intrigue, romance and pathos, but through it all the element of comedy is dominating; to such an extent, in fact, that at moments the action borders on farce.

Mr. Taber has associated with him in the presentation of the piece a group of brilliant and well-known players who make of it the sort of entertainment to please all classes of theatregoers, and add to their reputations for ability to play comedy roles. Those in the company are Hale Norcross, Jay Hanna, Percy Jennings, Ann Winston, Virginia Norton, Mary Ellen Hanley, Maude Carroll, Warburton Guilbert, Buddy Bages, Judson Langill, Sammy Green, Leah Hatch and William Pollard.

WELSH SINGERS HERE SATURDAY

The Royal Welsh Singers, noted musical organization now touring the central states, will appear in concert before a local audience on Saturday night in the First Christian church auditorium under auspices of the Loyal Men's and the Loyal Women's Sunday school classes.

The company includes three internationally known musicians—Madame Gwladys Cutter, soprano; Irene Selby, reader and pianist; and D. Edgar Davies, famous Welsh baritone.

Several violin solos were given by T. S. Henry, and banjo selections by Mrs. Paul Kinsey. Mrs. Henry sang several songs. A reading was given by Miss Alfreda Marshall.

MACK IS HIT IN NEW SHOW

"Billy's Troubles" is Musical Comedy at Strand.

Playing to capacity crowds, "Red" Mack and his "Sweet Stuff" company of musical comedy stars opened their second week's engagement at the Strand theater yesterday.

The offering for the first half of the week is "Billy's Troubles," a musical comedy version of the novel, "Bought and Paid For." The comedy role is in the able hands of "Red" Mack, a "poor shipping clerk," who is elevated to a lucrative position by a New York millionaire who marries his wife's sister.

The show is offered in four scenes. Elaborate stage settings are used in the production, which runs for an hour and a half.

Spice is added to the program by a bevy of chorus girls, who appear in singing and dancing numbers. Numerous vaudeville specialities are presented.

The photoplay is "Barriers Burned Away," a picturization of the great Chicago fire.

A complete change in program will be presented Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Once Noted Distillery Passes Into Oblivion; Now Is Cider Plant

BLOOMSBURG, Pa.—The "Robert McHenry born 1812" slogan so famous a few years ago, has passed into oblivion with the changing of the once famous whisky distillery at Benton, near here, into a pasteurized cider plant. In addition to the manufacture of the cider product that is guaranteed to remain sweet, the management is making apple-butter for sale on the market.

The only building of the group that remains empty at the present time is the large bonding house that had been used for the storage of whisky at the time the Volstead act went into effect. Bootleggers entered the place and carted away all the barrels of aged whisky that had been stored there in compliance with governmental orders.

AUTO LICENSES FOR 1926 READY DECEMBER 10

Commissioner Hilbert Prepares to Distribute New Tags

RATE IS REDUCED

Applicants Must Present Bill of Sale, is Warning.

Distribution of the 1926 series of automobile license plates will be started by Deputy Commissioner J. S. Hilbert on or about December 10.

First shipment of the plates for trailers has been received. Pleasure car and truck tags will arrive here within the next week or ten days.

No more 1925 plates will be issued from the local offices, all applications for the remainder of the year being sent to the state license bureau at Columbus. Hilbert has returned to Columbus about 30 sets of plates which were on hand when notice was received to discontinue distribution. Transfers, duplicate tags and certificates of registration for old plates are still available at the local office, however.

The 1926 licenses will be sold at reduced rates, in compliance with the Lipp law, passed at the last session of the legislature. Tags for pleasure cars will cost $4, $6 and $10, depending upon the horse-power of the machine.

Rates for Trucks.

The rate for trucks is based entirely upon the weight. For trucks weighing 2,500 pounds or less, the rate is 70 cents 100 pounds; for those between 2,500 and 6,000 pounds, 90 cents per 100 pounds; for those from 6,000 to 9,000 pounds, $1 per 100 pounds; for those of 9,000 pounds and over, $1.15 per 100 pounds.

Applicants must present a bill of sale, which has been recorded, when application is made for a license. Tags will be refused when such bill is not available. Car owners having bills of sale, which have not been recorded at Lisbon, are advised to forward both copies to the recorder's office, together with a 25-cent fee and a self-addressed stamped envelope.

Deputy registrars also have been furnished with a list of cars, which were reported for taxation on or before April 12, of this year. Instructions have been issued to refuse license plates to owners whose names are not shown on the list.

Suicides Increasing In British Kingdom; Hanging Common Form

LONDON—Suicides are increasing in England and Wales, according to returns issued by the authorities. The number of suicides per million among men in England and Wales in 1924 was 157, compared with 147 10 years previously, and that of women 54 against 49. Suicides of women numbered 1,062, compared with 918 in 1894.

The returns show that the most common form of committing suicide among men is by hanging, and the use of poison among women. Asphyxiation by gas is finding many recruits.

Governor Seeks Strong Sentiment for World Court

In order to prove to Senator George H. Moses, of New Hampshire, that sentiment in that state is in favor of joining the World Court, Gov. John G. Winant, has appointed a committee of 175 members to organize a movement in favor of the court in New Hampshire. Moses has expressed no opinion regarding the intended efforts of the committee

a young man from the stag line does wander in on his way home from the ball, he is soon so "soused" that he doesn't even try to talk and therefore he doesn't matter.

It's a hard world for those born with money, and expecting brains and society to mix.

There is no such mixture.

Lady Astor is horrified by the loss of a few lives in a sunken submarine and wants to abolish submarines.

Great Britain, at the Washington conference which made Uncle Sam foolish, asked the powers to do away with submarines. That was natural, for, at that time, flying machines not being well understood, the submarine was the one enemy of the British battleship and British maritime trade.

But why should Senator Borah or any American want to abolish the submarine?

We shall never use submarines to attack anybody. But we ought to have plenty of them to meet enemy ships coming here with loads of flying machines to be released near our coast.

Senator Borah, who fortunately for this country, is head of the committee on foreign affairs, should look at Mesopotamia, North Africa, China, Russian and a few other spots on the globe, and realize that the talk about "abolishing war' is childish.

You don't talk about "abolishing crime," for that would mean changing human nature and would require perhaps half a million years.

Instead of talking nonsense about "abolishing crime," we maintain a police force and prisons to deal with crime.

Similarly we should have submarines, flying machines and well-trained officers to deal with war. War is to nations what crime is to individuals. And while sentiment is beautiful, in the abstract, it should not throttle off common sense.

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, Dec. 1.—With the exception of the railroad stocks and a few of the industrials and specialties, stock prices settled to lower levels in the early trading today. Railroad shares continued the upward movement which was in progress at the close of yesterday's session, the western stocks being helped by the announced decision of the interstate commerce commission, granting an increase of about 6 cents a hundred pounds on grain products from Colorado to destinations in Michigan and Wisconsin. Market rumors credited the forthcoming address to congress by President Coolidge as being very favorable to the railroads, particularly the proposed amalgamations of strategic lines.

The convening of a session of congress is generally regarded as a bearish factor in the stock market, since it is expected to give disagreeable and the so-called radical members of congress an opportunity to air their views before the country, and force undesirable changes in new legislative measures. Combined with the temporary tightening of call money nad the uncertainty over the reserve bank rediscount rate, anticipitation of reopening of confress next Monday was held responsible for a considerable portion of speculative selling today.

Legion Members Plan Erection of Community Christmas Tree

War Veterans Will Request City for Permission to Place it in Center of Diamond.

East Liverpool will have a community Christmas tree, this year, through the efforts of East Liverpool post No. 4, American Legion.

If permission is obtained, the tree will be erected in the center of the Diamond. Should city officials frown upon this plan, it will be placed in another location as near the center of the city as possible.

This decision was reached at the meeting of the post last evening. A committee consisting of W. S. Foulks, Lex Ferris, Robert Baur, Cecil Pearce and Dennis F. Burke was named to arrange for the erection and decoration of the tree.

The post plans to secure its tree, at least 25 feet in height, near Sprucevale in St. Clair township. Merchants are to be asked to furnish the decorations. The tree will be illuminated at night with a hundred or more colored electric lights.

Installation of officers took place at the meeting last evening, Samuel Adams, a past commander of Wellsville post No. 70, being installing officer. The new officers are: Commander, Ray T. Adam; first vice commander, Robert Baur; second vice commander, D. F. Burke; adjutant, W. S. Foulks; treasurer, B. F. McKeever; historian, C. B. Applegate; chaplain, Rex Ferris; sergeant - at - arms, George Brownlee.

The members of the post will entertain their wives and friends at a meeting in the Legion hall next Monday evening.

COOLIDGE WILL ANSWER LEWIS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—President Coolidge will reply in a few days to the recent letter of John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, in which he hinted at a bituminous miners' strike unless the government interceded to compel the operators to live up to the Jacksonville wage agreement.

The president told callers today that he had refrained from answering Lewis' letter for fear of complicating the negotiations being conducted to end the anthracite strike by Governor Pinchot, of Pennsylvania.

Coal Operators Shun Peace, Gov. Pinchot Tells Newspapermen

DUBOIS, Pa., Dec. 1.—In turning down the proposal for a settlement of the anthracite coal strike the operators have not only shunned industrial peace, they have declared for war," Governor Gifford Pinchot declared on his arrival here to inspect state institutions.

The Pennsylvania governor, whose peace offer the miners accepted said he had not been advised officially of the operators' refusal to consider his plan. Until this is received, which probably will not be before the governor returns to Harrisburg next week, he would make no further comment and declined to disclose his next step in attempting to break the deadlock.

HARRISBURG, Pa., Dec. 1.—Hopes of an early settlement of the hard coal strike appeared to be as remote today, after the sharp rejection of Gov. Gifford Pinchot's peace plan by the operators, as when the strike went into effect September 1.

In fact, the belief was freely expressed that a long, bitter fight between the United Mine Workers of America and the anthracite operators is in prospect.

Briand Pledges Peace.

When the treaties had been signed M. Briand, speaking from his seat, declared that he represented the majority of the French people in their desire for peace and their hatred of war and he assured the signatories that France would do all in her power to make the treaties a success and to prevent war.

Premier Baldwin of Great Britain, who had witnessed the signing of the treaties, made a brief speech, declaring that the treaties have laid the foundation for world peace, so long sought.

Herr Stresseman and M. Briand are conferring this afternoon. It is understood Stresseman will urge the abolition of restrictions upon free travel between France and Germany. He will also recommend that there be closer co-operation between Germany, France and Great Britain for the development of civil aviation.

MITCHELL TRIAL SCENE OF ROW

Defense Counsel Objects to Remark of Court Member.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1. — Another heated row broke at the Col. William Mitchell court-martial today when Representative Frank R. Reid (R.) of Illinois, defense counsel, objected to remarks by Maj. Gen. William S. Graves, a member of the court.

The exchange between opposing sides became so acrimonious that Maj. Gen. Robert L. Howze, president of the court, ordered the room cleared.

While Captain T. W. Yarnell of the navy was being examined by Reid, Graves mumbled a remark that scarcely could be heard ten feet away. Reid heard it, however, quickly turned to the court and announced.

"I will not have my cross-examination of a witness interrupted.

Because of the row, Reid moved Graves' removal by the court. After consultation in private, however, the court denied the motion, and Graves was permitted to remain as a member.

Reid's statement aroused Graves.

"I am not interrupting you and as a member of this court I refuse to be badgered by defense counsel," snapped Graves.

The new flare-up followed closely on the heels of a similar incident when Brig. Gen. Edward L. King called Reid's examination of a witness "a lot of damn rot."

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—A clash in the new congress between the Coolidge brand of economy and the Roosevelt ian theory of national preparedness appeared today as a probable outcome of the aviation controversy kicked up by Colonel William Mitchell, stormy petrel of the air service.

Through a maze of aviation problems, born of the Mitchell case, it was indicated today by administration leaders, will run the thread of President Coolidge's plea for reduced armaments and stricter federal economy. While surface issues will involve the wide sympathy for Mitchell and congressional demands for a greater air service, the background will reveal a new preparedness fight for a greater and more modern national defense. The ultimate result will be a clash between these two forces with the house and senate as the battlegrounds.

Record Rainfall in Miami.

MIAMI, Fla., Dec. 1.—Miami's record rainfall of 14.- inches in less than 12 hours yesterday caused damage conservatively estimated today at seven hundred thousand dollars.

Water, which stood one and a half feet deep in Miami streets yesterday, today had practically all vanished. A strong gale swept the city early today.

KEYWEST, Fla., Dec. 1.—Key West felt no effects from the tropical disturbance that passed over the Florida keys at an early hour this morning. The disturbance, first detected over the western end of Cuba, and traveling at the rate of 200 miles every six hours and apparently headed for Key West, altered its course and passed over the middle Florida Keys to the southern Atlantic.

At midnight the P. Ando steamer Cuba, detained at this port, sailed for Havana.

The Mallory steamer San Jucinto from Galveston wirelessed that she would reach port at 10 o'clock this morning.

The Munson liner Red Bird, reported ashore off Miami, has been floated.

The weather bureau reported this morning that the tropical disturbance was moving northwestward in the Atlantic ocean.

Rhinelander Hiding Behind Family, Says Counsel for Bride

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., Dec. 1.—"No man has the right to hide behind the smoke screen of a long family history," shouted Lee Parsons Davis, counsel for Alice Jones Rhinelander, resuming his summation to the jury today in the closing chapter of the marriage annulment suit of Leonard Kip Rhinelander against his quadroon bride.

Davis dramatically contrasted the surroundings of young Rhinelander, of the New York Rhinelanders, and Alice Jones, "of an humble and poor parentage, a servant and the daughter of servants."

Davis sought to show that Alice could not have lead Leonard into their relationship against his wishes.

Rotary Club Speech

"Rotary should teach every member the true meaning of the word 'service.' The motto of the organization, 'He profits most who serves best,' should be practiced and not preached. No one has the right to wear the Rotary button if he does not practice what the organization teaches.

"Rotary should make a man keep the spirit of youth. If you are not keeping young you are not receiving the full benefits of the organization.

"Rotary increases your interest in community affairs. This is a great age for 'passing the buck' but a true Rotarian is always willing to do his share of things that pertain to community betterment.

"Rotary makes you proud of your business or profession.

"Rotary will give you intimate personal friendship with your fellow members if you attend the meetings and keep in touch with the work of the organization.

"Rotary will increase your interest in boyhood. Support the boy's work committee in all its movements and you will profit by it."

STATE EMPLOYES TO SHOP EARLY

Gov. Donahey Endorses Plan in Letter to Departments.

COLUMBUS, Dec. 1. — Governor Donahey, as head of the largest business organization in the state, today set an example for employers throughout Ohio. He wrote heads of all state departments suggesting that they give their employes time for Christmas shopping early this month instead of waiting until the Christmas rush sets in.

The governor feels that state employes should be given an opportunity to do their necessary holiday shopping before the merchandise stocks in the stores are depleted. His letter this year was prompted by the fact that merchants throughout the state, in order to meet the demand of early Christmas shoppers, are displaying their holiday stocks earlier than usual. The governor's letter to department heads follows:

"This is the month of the Christmas season.

"Your employes will be asking you for a little time off to do their holiday shopping. Such requests usually come a day or two before Christmas.

"I am informed that this year the retail merchants of Ohio, in an organized way, are displaying their merchandise stocks earlier in the season than usual in order to encourage earlier shopping. This is an effort I heartily endorse and I wish you would pass the word to the employes of your department.

"Early shopping is not only advantageous to the shopper, but, what is more important, will tend to protect the health and strength of many thousands of retail clerks and salespeople and give them a merrier Christmas."

CARD OF THANKS.

Dimit and singers, neighbors of Ogden street, and Ridgeway avenue, Laughlin decorating shop, Dresden decorators and warehousemen, first and second grades of Grant street schol and Dr. Albert Michaels for their kindness and sympathy shown towards us in the sickness and death of our beloved little son, Billy.

American Theatre Offers Photoplay of Western Army Life

The social life of an army post in the West is faithfully depicted in "The Scarlet West," which is now being shown at the American theatre.

The period is that following the Civil War, when the various tribes of Indians infesting the Western plains rose in revolt against the encroachments of the white men seeking new homes. So aggressive did the redskins become that the government was compelled to send many regiments of soldiers into that territory to preserve order and prevent the extermination of the pioneers.

Forts were erected in many strategic points, and in most cases the officers took their families to these isolated spots. There were no theatres to attend; no operas or other attractions such as the big city boasts, but nonetheless there were many social events that helped to make life more bearable. And there were social distinctions as clearly defined as in a metropolis.

In the cast of this First National picture are such notable players as Clara Bow, Robert Frazer, Robert Ederson, Johnny Walker, Walter McGrail Gaston Glass, Helen Ferguson, Ruth Stonehouse, Martha Francis and Florence Crawford.

"The Scarlet West" was produced by Frank J. Carroll and directed by John Adolphi.

DOG LICENSE TAX IS GIVEN BOOST

Because of the provisions of a law passed by the last legislature, dog licenses for 1926 are now being issued by Deputy Tax Collector Randall Hamilton, and the initial rate of $1 for a male dog and $3 for a female dog will prevail up to Jan. 20 next only. The owners of dogs have been charged to obtain their licenses before Jan. 20 for on that date the penalty provided by the new law becomes operative.

The penalty that will be collected on all licenses on and after Jan. 20 next will be $1 on each license applied for, making the cost of a male dog after Jan. 20 $2 and the fee for a female dog $4.

During the last fiscal year a total of $6,744.24 was collected from this source by Mr. Hamilton and turned into the county treasurer to the credit of the dog and animal fund, from which all sheep claims are paid, and the balance going to the county board of education.

A number of dog owners were arrested during the last year for failure to take out dog licenses, and the provisions of the new law will be enforced on and after Jan. 20 next.

To Place War Trophy.

Hair Secrets

Gleamy, Thick, Wavy Hair in a Moment

A delightful surprise awaits those who try this. When combing and dressing your hair, just moisten your hair brush with a little "Danderine" and brush it through your hair. The effect is startling! Your hair will appear twice as thick and heavy—sparkling with life and possessing that incomparable softness, freshness and luxuriance, and just delicately perfumed.

While beautifying the hair "Danderine" is also toning and stimulating each single hair to grow thick, heavy and strong. Hair stops falling out and dandruff disappears. Get a 35-cent bottle of "Danderine" at any drug or toilet counter and just see how healthy and youthful your hair appears after this delightful, refreshing dressing.

An additional appropriation of $2,000 has been made by the county commissioners for the continuation of the tuberculin cattle test in this county, as provided by a law passed at the last session of the legislature. A detailed report of the work now in progress is being filed from time to time with the commissioners as is necessary under this law, the report being compiled by the office of the county farm bureau.

It is the opinion of the commissioners that the second tuberculin test will be completed before the close of the year.

Permitted To Borrow.

The trustees of the Lisbon Methodist Episcopal church have been given the authority of common pleas court to borrow money to continue improvements to the church property, the order being granted upon an application filed several weeks ago. The prayer of the petition has been granted and in due time a report is to be made to the court.

Court Statistics.

Of the 57 cases filed in common pleas court during November, 13 were actions for divorce. Nearly 300 cases have been filed on the appearance docket since August 1.

Only one new action was filed Monday, this being a foreclosure action filed by W. H. Callahan of Youngstown against Florence L. Fisher, also of Youngstown, but who owns property in Columbiana.

Man Seeks Freedom.

An application made before Judge James G. Moore for the release of Chalmer Votaw, of Salem, who is being held in the county jail for the next grand jury under two charges, has resulted in the court placing the bond at $4,000.

Votaw has been charged with assault with intent to rob and also with highway robbery. In the former instance his bond has been placed at $1,000 and in the robbery charge the bond has been set at $3,000.

Marriage License Report.

"Speed Demon" Hen Likes Motoring at 50-Mile Clip

South Woodstock, Conn.—There are towns that lay claim to four-legged chickens and web-footed chickens, but this town lays claim to having the only "speed demon" hen in existence.

"Percy" is the masculine name of this feminine fowl. She roosts constantly on the fender or dashboard of an automobile belonging to a resident of the town, and nothing pleases her more than to speed along the country roads, perched on the fender of the car, wings ruffled, at a fifty-mile-an-hour rate.

A few nights ago the owner of the car decided to make up a theater party to go to a near-by city. He tried to get Percy away from the machine, but she insisted on returning, wise to the fact that a trip was contemplated. Percy won out and was treated to a breakneck ride to the city.

The party had not been in the theater for more than fifteen minues before Percy had a crowd surrounding her. The strange fowl's admirers soon attracted the ire of a traffic cop, who, routing the surprised theater party, ordered them to get their "confounded circus off the highway."

So Percy got another speedy ride home, and in the morning laid an egg on the running board for her master in recompense for his ruined evening.

Texas Woman Sick For Six Long Weeks

Mrs. Almond Finally Relieved of Miserable Stomach Trouble by Dr. Thacher's Liver and Blood Syrup.

When people came forward from all parts of the country and voluntarily offer their unqualified endorsement of a preparation that has received their sufferings and made them well and strong, no better evidence could be wanted as to its real worth to the sick and afflicted.

Such evidence is constantly being presented from sources widely separated, showing the great esteem in which Dr. Thatcher's Liver and Blood Syrup is regarded by people everywhere.

Among the latest of those who declare their unbounded faith in this preparation is Mrs. M. W. Almond, of Jacksonville, Texas, who writes:

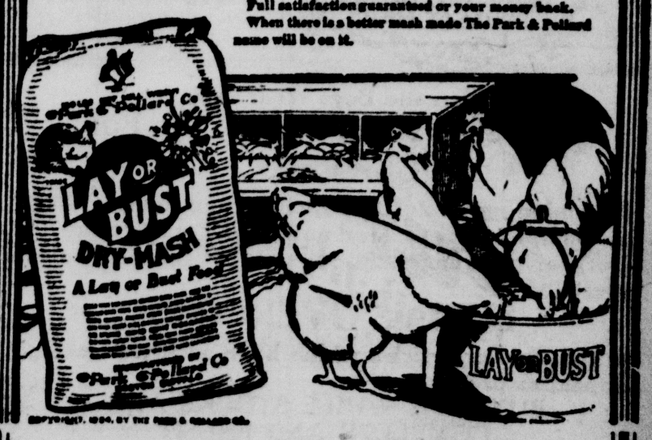

"I was sick for six weeks and suffered so terribly I just couldn't keep anything on my stomach, I was under treatment all the time, but never got any better, so one day I begged my husband to get me a good stomach medicine from the drug store. He brought me a bottle of Dr. Thatcher's Liver and Blood Syrup. I had never taken it before and was so nervous and discouraged I began to cry and said I didn't want it. But he insisted on giving me a dose, and after taking a few doses I felt so much better I just kept on with it till now I am as strong and healthy as I could wish."

No doubt there are many people right here in East Liverpool who have the same trouble that afflicted Mrs. Almond and who would be as quickly relieved if they followed her example. For sale in East Liverpool by Carnahan Drug Co., and other leading druggists.

BOONE ELEVEN PLACES FOUR ON FIRST SQUAD

REVIEW-TRIBUNE'S COUNTY TEAMS

Cosgrove, Salem	L.E.	E. English, East Liverpool

Larkins, East Liverpool	C.	Fisher, Salem

Coffee, Salem	L.H.	Reible, East Lievrpool
Pignatore, Wellsville	R.H.	Campbell, Wellsville
P. English, East Liverpool	F.	Hum, Lisbon

THE performances of two teams marked the 1925 football campaign among Columbiana county scholastic elevens. These two teams —East Liverpool and Salem—were the foremost contenders for the county championship from the start of the season until near the close when the Boone eleven triumphed over the Red and Black and emerged as the only undefeated outfit in the circuit.

East Palestine, Lisbon and Leetonia were comparatively easy for Salem, but the Red and Black fell prey to East Liverpool which also trimmed East Palestine and Lisbon.

Consequently, East Liverpool and Salem offered the greatest fields for the selection of the All-County mythical eleven.

It was a comparatively easy matter to select one team of 11 outstanding performers, but another and more difficult task to select a second. There was no preponderance of all-star material throughout the county.

In fact, there was a decided dearth of first rate backfield talent in comparison with other years, but the quartet that won such honors, if any, was so marked that its selection was inevitable and unquestionable.

Cornelli, the fiery, diminutive Lisbon signal caller is placed at quarter, with Coffee, of Salem, and Pignatore, of Wellsville, at the halves; and Paul English, of East Liverpool, at fullback.

English had little difficult in distinguishing himself with an aggregation that won eight out of nine games played. A somewhat similar situation exists with Coffee, Pignatore, of Wellsville, toting the ball for a green and inexperienced team that failed to win a game, had a difficult task, but nevertheless he qualified, especially in the game with Steubenville.

Cornelli is one of the real veterans of the Lisbon eleven, and one of its chief mainstays. He is a good field general and produced results despite the fact that he had only a light backfield to throw against opposing forces.

As a result of their greater experience, weight and all-around qualifications, Cosgrove, of Salem, and Mowery, Leetonia, draw the end assignments.

The two tackles, Older, of Salem and Bough, of East Liverpool, are what might be called "naturals.' They were the peer of anything in the county circuit, in the line of tackle. And perhaps the same situation exists at the guards and center. Banks, of East Liverpool, and Sheen, of Salem, both veterans, place at the guards, and Dick Larkins, who will captain East Liverpool's 1926 team, lands the center post.

East Liverpool lost another almost certain all-county star when Ralph Shaffer, halfback, went to the hospital in mid-season with a badly battered knee.

The champions are given four places on the first team; Salem gets four; and Wellsville, Leetonia and Lisbon one each.

HESTON BETTER THAN GRANGE

Far Better Back Than Illini Star, Declares Yost.

NEW YORK, Dec. 1.—Willie Heston was a finer back than Red Grange, and Ernie Nevers, of Stanford, is a better all around football player than Jim Thorpe, according to statements made respectively by "Hurry Up" Yost and Glenn Warner. They were made at a football dinner last night at the Hotel Commodore.

"Grange is good," Yost said. "I have seen him in five games, and, in four of them, he was just a pretty fine back. In the other, he was an elusive, hard-running shadow. But game in and game out, he couldn't compare to Heston, who didn't make 50 or 60 points a season but 200. He would have made a million in the modern game."

Warner supported his statement about Nevers in no uncertain terms.

"I coached both men, so I ought to know," he declared. "For all around ability, I have never seen another man like Nevers."

Fractured Bone in Shoulder Fails to Stop Fordham Star

NEW YORK, Dec. 1. — It was learned today that Jim Manning, captain and one of the leading backs at Fordham University, played through the entire season of 1925 with a fractured bone in his shoulder. He sustained the injury before the opening of the season but withheld its nature from his teammates and coach.

W'ins Batting Laurels In Last Minute Spurt

Harry Heilmann Beats Out Tris Speaker in Closing Days of Campaign, But, Despite Heavy Clubbing, Could Not Attain .400 Mark, American League Statistics Show.

STATISTICS on team batting demonstrated the heavier hitting in the American league in 1925 over the 1924 season. In 1925 three teams batted better than .300, while in 1924 the high mark was .298, which happens to be the same as recorded for the fourth team in hitting the past season. In 1925 five teams scored more than 800 runs, Detroit leading by topping the 900 mark and St. Louis second with but a few under. In 1924 Detroit was the only team to score more than 800 runs.

Detroit, the team batting leader of 1924, had to be content with third place in 1925, both the Athletics and the champion Senators topping the Tigers. The Athletics take the 1925 honors with a team percentage of .307. The Atheltices also made most hits, but did not lead in total bases, that honor going to the St. Louis Browns, who tied with the New York Yankees for homers and were the leaders in two-base hits. Detroit made most three-base hits.

Washington shaded Chicago slightly in number of bases stolen, but the White Sox were not beaten at that because they were not trying, as they tied the Senators in number of men caught attempting to steal. Chicago led in sacrifice hits. Detroit again had most runners left on bases, in number only however, for the Cleveland team had only one less in one less game played.

The batting percentage of the Boston Red Sox, a poor last in offensive work, was eleven points less than the same team registered the year before, when it also brought up the rear in batting.

Individual Batting.

With all the heavy hitting of the 1925 season in the American league, the season's batting champion could not attain the .400 mark. That champion, Harry Heilmann, right fielder of the Detroit team, finished up with a terrific batting streak to achieve an average of .393. Thereby he beat out the veteran Tris Speaker, who had taken to the bench in the latter part of the season except to appear now and then as a pinch hitter. Speaker had retired from regular play with an average of .389. That finishing mark for him topped Al Simmons, the slugging center fielder of the Athletics, by three points.

Simmons stood between Speaker and that other veteran, Ty Cobb, who batted .378, thus making it twenty consecutive seasons that he had batted better than .300. As an indication of the increased batting averages down the line, Cobb's 1925 figures, which put him in fourth place among the regulars, were exactly those with which Ruth led the league in hitting in 1924.

Ruth not only surrendered batting honors, but also home run honors, which were taken for the 1925 season by his team mate, Bob Meusel, who registered 33 round trip hits. In percentage of homers per game played, however, Ruth still was supreme.

Ruth's honors as a run-getter were taken the past season by Johnny Mostil, center fielder of the Chicago White Sox, who also led in stealing bases. Total base honors went to Al Simmons, by a considerable margin. Most three-base hits were made by Leon Goslin of Washington; Marty McManus of St. Louis led in two-base hits by one over Simmons and Earl Sheely, who tied for second place in this respect. Stanley Harris led in sacrifice hits. Simmons also made most hits, falling but a few short of the record for hits made by George Sisler in 1920.

That Mostil was always trying when on bases is indicated by the records of "caught stealing." The Chicago speed merchant was thrown out 21 times in attempts to steal.

There were four men in not enough games to be classed as regular players who were above Al Simmons in percentage. This quartet was led by Chester Falk of St. Louis, who failed as a pitcher, but developed surprising batting powers, as his mark of .625 indicates. He went to bat but eight times, though taking part in 17 games, and made five hits, all singles. Benny Tate and Walter Johnson of Washington and Tony Rego of St. Louis were the other "nominal" leaders, each with figures above .400.

A feature of the American league batting averages is the liberal sprinkling of younger players among the veterans who have year after year shown the way. Among these new men who did notable hitting were Simmons, Wingo, French, Paschal and Harry Rice.

Wooster College Grants Coach Boles Year's Leave of Absence

By STANLEY D. KOCH.

CLEVELAND, Dec. 1.—Nor did the surprises of the 1925 Ohio conference football season end with the season's close.

Even after the schedule had been buried away and the records added to the musty pile that have accumulated for years, there was still another shock to add to the usual serenity of the gridiron year. It wasn't enough to have all the unpicked teams wallop all the choice selections and to have the proverbial underdog bite his way to victory, nor to have rain fall when all signs pointed to clear weather.

Now Wooster college steps out with a radical and commendable step in granting to Coach L. C. Boles a year's leave of absence as a reward and in appreciation for his faithful and exceptionally successful service as director of athletics. This is an innovation in Ohio conference circles and comes as a pleasant shock. The leave-of-absence stuff has been awarded to other members of the faculty, but in Ohio no athletic director has heretofore been honored.

When Louis C. Boles came to Wooster in 1915, he took over a mediocre team with an obscure record. In the intervening 11 years, Wooster football teams have won 73 of the 93 games played and tied seven, for a percentage of .849. In the 11 years, 58 times the Bolesmen have blanked their opponents and only one eleven, the Case team of 1916, has scored more than two touchdowns against them. Wooster has averaged 17½ points per game to the 3½ points of their adversaries during this period.

Real Title Winner.

Four football championships and three basketball titles have been his contribution to Wooster's records as well as the 7-7 tie with Ohio State in 1924. In his absence, which will take place after the college year, E. M. Hole, freshman coach, will direct athletics and coach basketball, while Arthur Murray will take over the football mentorship as well as baseball. Coach Boles plans a trip to California, accompanied by Mrs. Boles and Carmen, his daughter, and will spend his leave of absence visiting the west coast.

Wooster's record this past year included only the loss to Oberlin. After that game, Boles told the writer that he feared the results of the Denison, Mt. Union and Reserve games as well, but through the skill of his, the Woosterites emerged victorious in all of those contests.

As said before, it was a funny season. Ohio Wesleyan, of course, was the sensation. It had a margin at least of 24 points over every adversary and was perhaps that much superior to any eleven in the race. Oberlin, undefeated, was a unique and good team. Coach McCeachron's first year was undoubtedly a success, for he developed an outfit that worked together throughout. It wasn't sensational but it was methodical. All integral parts inter-related and the absence of any player found a capable substitute in his stead and the machine moved on without hesitation.

Mounts In-And-Outers.

St. Xavier, in its defeat of Kenyon, reached its highest pinnacle, for the last few games saw the Musketeers less effective than before. Kenyon, itself, had a remarkable year and with the one loss to the Saints at Cincinnati on a muddy field, the Episcopalians showed all kinds of class until the final game with Mt. Union at which time the Mounts ran wild and ferocious. The latter were a wonderful example of it-and-outers, playing championship football against Oberlin, Kenyon, and a few others, but losing twice through downright bad football.

One of the brilliant showings of the year was made by Baldwin Wallace, which after a wretched start in which the first three games were dropped, the Berea eleven came back strong to cop the remaining five contests. Miami, Ohio and Cincinnati, the Oxford aggregation reaching its heights in the 30-0 win over Wittenberg, while Cincinnati ended its season in the proverbial blaze of glory by walloping Miami. Muskingum, Wittenberg, Case, Denison and Heidelberg showed good football at times, the Case season being a success in breaking the 14-year old jinx which seemingly shaded every final game with Western Reserve. Of the remaining five elevens, Ohio Northern, Western Reserve, Akron, Otterbein and Hiram, their seasons were tragedies and therefore the least said the better.

SEEK COLGATE FOR COAST GAME

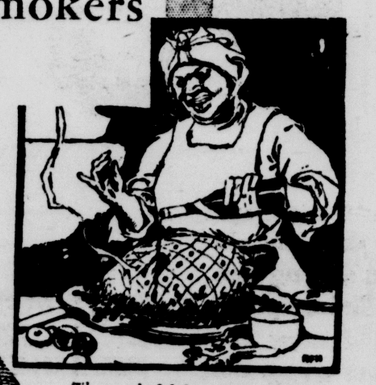

PASADENA, Cal., Dec. 1.—Colgate, undefeated eastern eleven, will be offered a chance to play the University of Washington in the annual east-west football game in Pasadena's tournament of roses bowl New Years, it was semi-officially announced by the tournament committee today.

Official announcement of Colgate's selection was being withheld until acceptance was received from the New York college, it was stated.

In the event Colgate refuses to play, either Pittsburgh, Alabama or Tulane will be invited.

Jack Benefield, graduate manager of the University of Oregon and the committee's representative, is now in the east making arrangements for the selection.

GREAT VAULTER PLANS U. S. TRIP

Scandinavian May Follow Nurmi Methods.

By Davis J. Walsh.

NEW YORK, Dec. 1.—European lecturers have told us of our national faults. Nurmi showed us how to run and total an expense account. But apparently we have had less than enough.

A Scandinavian is coming to show us how to vault, an Englishman soon will be en route to teach us how to talk and a Dutchman stands ready to show us how to fly.

The old army game, so excellently exploited by Paavo Nurmi, of Finland, last winter is about to be tried out, on the good, old populace again and extended one-night stand by squads of amateur athletics once more is in prospect.

The writer is informed that Charley Hoff, of Norway, holder of the world's pole vault record, is making ready to visit us for a tour of inspection. Of course, the fact that Nurmi was persuaded to run from one end of the country to the other last year, so that the young idea in America might be educated and entertained, has nothing to do with Hoff's determination. He loves his pole vaulting and simply must obey that impulse.

14 Feet His Record.

If he reaches here in good condition and his style is not cramped by indoor competition, Hoff might very well prove a greater attraction than Nurmi. His present record is somewhat in the absurd neighborhood of 14 feet and, although he hardly could hope to dally with this figure indoors, the world's record on the boards would seem to be his for the asking.

However, Hoff's line is broader and more versatile than the mere detail of seizing one stick and jumping over another. He is one of the best broad jumpers in the game and a middle distance runner who takes rank with Liddell, Lowe, Martin, the Swiss, and other European stars.

Hoff injured his heel prior to the last Olympic games at Paris and, therefore, was unable either to vault or jump. But in spite of a decided limp, he qualified in both the 400 and 800 metre runs and experts agreed that in condition, he might have won either or both.

If he starts that kind of thing around these parts, he will suffer an immediate rush of promoters to the head and the Nurmi tour, so prolific of records and recriminations, may be enacted all over again.

Will Have Company.

Hoff will have several collaborators, including Adrian Paulen, of Holland, and George Goodwin, of England. The latter is a walker but America will forgive him. In fact, it will pay to see him do it. He is said to be considerably faster than Frigerio, the Italian, who amused us last year but didn't beat us with any degree of consistency. Goodwin, however, lacks Frigerio's endurance and, therefore, will engage Willie Plant over the shorter distances.

Paulen didn't cause Holland to tear down its dykes by his running at the Olympic games, but he came over here last summer and ran right over Helffrich, Marsters and Holden in the stretch drive of a special half mile race. This performance entitled him to sit in the old army game for one more hand, at least.

THREE QUINTS AT COLUMBIANA

Sunday School Cage League Also Planned.

COLUMBIANA, Dec. 1.—If all plans now under consideration materialize, Columbiana basketball fans will have their appetite appeased the coming season. In addition to the High school teams, there will be two first-class independent teams, and a church league. It is also reported that New Waterford High school will support teams this year and will use the local gym for their games, as no suitable place is available in New Waterford. Thus it will be seen that a few nights set aside for practice, the local floor will be in use every night in the week except Sunday. It is probable that the High school teams will commence practice next week under the direction of Coach Edgar Miller, after a week's rest following the close of the football season. If Coach Miller is as good at developing a basketball team from the boys available as he was in football there should be a fair boys' team molded from inexperienced material, as all of last year's fast team have graduated. There will be no cause for worry about the girls team, as practically all last year's team will be back.

Columbiana's new independent team, the Central Markets, sponsored by D. T. Stevens, held their first practice Monday evening in the High school gymnasium. Four members of last year's C. H. S. team will play in this group, as follows: Burkle, Crumbacher, forwards, Rupert, center, and Metz, guard. The fifth position will be fought for by Benninghoff, former C. H. S. and Miller Bros. player; "Bob" Russell, formerly of Orrville; Hassler, teacher at Fairfield Centralized school; McFadden, and possibly others. Russell Crumbacher was elected Captain Monday evening and Clarence Rohrer will be manager. Games will be played both at home and abroad with the fastest independent teams in the district, including Youngstown, the local games being held on Wednesday evenings as a double bill with the Miller Bros. team and their opponents. Miller Bros. club, under the efficient management of Dent Graham, will be represented by practically the same team as last year, with the exception of Delbert Hoover, who will probably blossom out this year as a referee. His many years of experience as a player and amateur refree should fit him well for this position. The other players who will be back in addition to Manager Graham, are: Hawkins, McMaster, Anderson, Maddox and Robinson, with other additions to be made later. A triple bill will probably hold forth on Wednesday nights as the Church league games will be used as preliminaries to the two big games.

20,000 Tickets Sold For Grange's Debut Before Gotham Fans

NEW YORK, Dec. 1.—Upward of 20,000 tickets for Red Grange's debut in New York on Sunday already have been sold, according to officials of the New York Giants, who have been kept busy since last week attending to the demand for tickets at the Giants' downtown offices, at the Polo grounds and at a local sports goods house. There will be accommodations for more than 65,000 when Grange takes the field with the Chicago Bears against the New York Giants in a national football league contest.

Tight Celluloid Suit Forever Encases Boy With Broken Spine

LONDON.—To be encased in a tight-fitting suit of celluloid for the remainder of his life is the fate of an East London Boy Scout, Jimmy King, aged fifteen, who has just sailed for South Africa after undergoing treatment in England for a broken spine.

The boy received his injury three years ago when some fellow scouts jumped on his back while he was sleeping. For three years he lay on his back helpless and in May last he traveled 6,000 miles to England on a stretcher to be treated by Sir Robert Jones, a famous spine specialist.

He will have to sleep in his jacket, but he is delighted because he will be able to do light work and will be able to walk easily.

A golf course of nine holes is being built in Venice on the island of Lido.

LAD CONFESSES HE SLEW CHUM WITH AX

TODAY

Not Knocking Society But—
Ellin Mackay Rebels.
Flouts "The Stag Line."
Submarines! Help Them.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

(The opinions expressed in this column are strictly those of Mr. Brisbane and not necessarily in consonance with the policies of The Review-Tribune).

Many rebellions, nearly all justified, stand out in the world's history. The latest is that of a young woman, Miss Ellin Mackay. Her father is rich, he married a Duer, that put him and his money into society. His own charm kept him there.

The daughter, a "rebel" of the moment, was invited everywhere. And her father gave parties, "blowouts," so to speak, that you might really call "parties." That was the rub.

When Miss "Rebel" Ellin Mackay went to the parties she had to look at young men lined up in what she calls "the stag line." That was a little more than she could bear. As a child at her mother's knee, she had learned to recite, "Water, water everywhere, and not a drop to drink."

Now, in her publicly printed rebellion she cries, "Faces, faces everywhere, and not a brain to think."

She says in substance that the scientists struggling, vainly thus far, to create a perfect vacuum make the mistake of their lives when they don't annex a face from the stag line at one of her own father's formal balls. They would get in such a face a perfect vacuum, one in which a feather and a lead bullet would drop 100 feet, start together and hit the floor together, if you know what we mean and understand a little science.

This poor little rich rebel, she writes really well for an amateur and might make a living as a sob sister on a newspaper, does not want to be driven to the cabarets where imitation Negroes stretch their lips, and imitation Gilda Grays wiggle their hips. But what can she do?

Between mixed company at the cabarets, and mixed boredom in the "stag line," she bows to fate, calls a taxi, and "beats it" to the cabaret.

There at least men are men, and if they do have "pathfinders" that appraise their jewels and steal them later, they are at least amusing about it.

Nobody in that stag line even has brains enough to steal jewelry, to say nothing of finding his way to the place where the maid leaves the jewelery on the dressing table.

Do you suggest that the young might compromise and fly from the stag line, go to the library of the Ladies' Colony club, there to read serious books?

You don't understand. You don't know that the only thing in the world more utterly boring than the stag line is the row of ladies at the Colony club. And as for books, the modern girl has read them all, or at least she knows by intimation everything that is in them.

No, while the stag line stands, a row of clothing store dummies, with heads nicely oiled, but not working, there is no place for a beautiful young female rebel at the cabaret.

There the saxophone moans, the lady with the past builds up her future, the saxophone does its stuff. And if

GORDON PIRIE KILLS FRIEND, CONCEALS BODY, GOES TO SHOW

New York Prisoner Murdered "Because He Got Notion."

WALKS TO JAIL

Uses Victim's Money to Buy Sodas for Three Girls.

NEW YORK, Dec. 1.—Gordon Pirie, 20, walked into a police station early today and confessed that he had killed his chum, George Nye, 19, with an ax "because he got the notion."

Police had been searching for Pirie ever since yesterday morning when his 16-year-old sister, Margaret, was startled into hysterics by the discovery of Nye's body under her bed.

Girl Urges Him to Confess.

After striking his victim six times, Pirie told District Attorney John E. McGeehan, he took $5.20 from the dead man's clothing, went out and spent the day playing pool, and ended it by going to a movie and buying ice cream sodas for three girls.

Pirie, according to the authorities, at first told conflicting stories. His confession came after the arrival of a girl friend, Violet Schmidt, whom he had escorted to her home before he had gone to the movies. Miss Schmidt, believing wholeheartedly in her friend's innocense, besought him to tell the truth.

Pirie's story, as retold by the district attorney, was that he arrived home shortly after midnight Saturday and found his friend, Nye, already asleep. He awakened him and they chatter pleasantly of money-making opportunities in Florida whence Pirie had just returned. The pair were alone in the apartment, Gordon's mother being in a hospital and his sister spending the week-end with relatives. Both finally went to sleep.

Hit Sleeping Lad Six Times.

Pirie awoke at 6:30 Sunday morning, went out to buy the Sunday papers. He returned and after reading for a little while fell asleep—it was when he re-awoke that the notion of killing Nye came to him, he said.

Going to the toolbox in the kitchen he got the ax and went back to the bedroom where Nye still lay sleeping.

"I hit him six times on the head and then looked at him to see that he was dead," were the words Pirie used, according to the district attorney.

Nye, being undressed, Pirie clothed him in overalls, washed the dead youth's face with a wet towel, and

SALVATION ARMY ASKS $3,000 FOR CHRISTMAS AND WINTER RELIEF FUND

LEADS CAMPAIGN TO AID NEEDY

Field Major Joseph Hughes.

The Salvation Army's Christmas dinner and winter relief fund campaign in the district, which opened today, is being directed by Field Major Joseph Hughes, who was an overseas' welfare worker during the World war.

Women Begin Canvass of Industrial Plants for Money to Meet Needs of District Poor.

STREET KETTLES WILL BE USED

Appeals for Clothing, Fuel and Groceries Pour Into Citadel, Field Major Hughes Says.

The Salvation Army today launched its campaign for funds to finance its Christmas dinner and winter relief activities.

Approximately $3,000 or more will be required to meet the demands for assistance during the holiday and winter seasons according to Field Major Joseph Hughes.

A committee of women today started to canvass in potteries and other factories. Six kettles will be placed on the streets next Saturday—four in the downtown district, one in East End and one in Wellsville. The kettles, in charge of Salvation Army lassies, will be on the streets on every shopping day until Christmas.

Appeals for relief are pouring into Salvation Army citadel daily. Clothing, groceries, and fuel are being furnished to the poor and needy, Major Hughes said.

To Distribute 500 Baskets.

Last year more than 500 baskets, each containing foodstuffs sufficient for two meals for the averaged family, were distributed in East Liverpool, Wellsville, Chester and Newell, and indications are that this number will be required again this year. This relief work alone requires an expenditure of approximately $1,500.

A personal appeal through the mails is to be made next week. Approximately 1,500 prospects, many of them were contributors in years past, are to be urged to support the campaign.

Major Hughes came here last fall, succeeding Adjutant John G. Dean, who was sent to a Cleveland station. Major and Mrs. Hughes are in the receipt of a letter from the Better Akron Federation, made up of representatives of 16 relief, welfare and charitable organizations, expressing "our deep feeling of appreciation for the friendly spirit of co-operation and valuable service that you gave to our community during the many years it was your privilege to serve it."

Daughter Assists in Work.

The letter adds: "We all know of the valuable work that you were doing and of course are sorry to have you leave. Our best wishes and love go with you in your new field of endeavor."

Major and Mrs. Hughes are being assisted at the local corps headquarters by their daughter, Miss Lily Hughes, who has been commissioned a lieutenant. Miss Hughes came here about a year ago and was continued in the local post after the arrival of her parents.

Major Hughes was a welfare worker with the Salvation Army during the World War, having been connected with the First Division for several months.

THREE NEGROES KILLED AND 19 HURT IN STORM

Tropical Disturbance Hits Tampa and Other Florida Cities.

POWER CUT OFF

Gale Topples Work Barracks on Davis Island.

TAMPA, Fla., Dec. 1.—Three negroes dead and nineteen injured represented the toll today of Tampa's worst storm in four years. The dead and injured were taken from the debris of work barracks on Davis Island, which were blown over by a 48 mile gale.

With power off, traffic lights out the street cars halted in many places, Tampa business was practically at a stand still today.

Other than a small blaze which firemen battled throughout early morning, preventing its spread to neighboring houses, the mishap on Davis Island was the only disastrous effect of the storm felt here.

All wire communications with Tampa from the north were cut off except for one commercial wire.

EUROPE'S STATESMEN ATTACH SIGNATURES TO NEW CHARTER OF PEACE

HOPE EXPRESSED THAT TREATIES MEAN MORE AUSPICIOUS PERIOD

Artificial Sunlight, Which Suddenly Fails in Midst of Ceremonies, Comes on Again Just as Germans, First to Act, Are Called Upon to Sign Epoch-making Documents.

By H. K. REYNOLDS.

LONDON, Dec. 1.—The Locarno security pact, Europe's "Charter of Peace," was signed in the reception hall of the foreign office by the leading statesmen of the continent at 11:25 this morning.

The ceremonies opened promptly at 11 o'clock when Austen Chamberlain called the assemblage to order and made a brief introductory speech, lauding the treaties and expressing the hope that they meant more auspicious times for Europe. Other delegates also made brief addresses.

The room where the treaties were being signed was flooded with artificial sunlight, which suddenly failed in the midst of the ceremonies, but just as the Germans were called upon to sign the treaty, their signature being first as the treaties were signed alphabetically in accordance with the French spelling, the light came on again.

Deposit Treaties at Geneva.

After the signing of the treaties the Germans were handed a formal note from the Allies, setting forth the allied interpretation of article XVI of the League of Nations covenant as agreed at Locarno.

The treaties signed today, with seals affixed, will be deposited with the League of Nations at Geneva.

Foreign Minister Chamberlain addressed the assembly in French, and Chancellor Luther of Germany, who responded, spoke in English. Brief speeches of congratulations were made by M. Briand, Count Scialoja, and M. Vandervelde.

The security pact was passed about the horseshoe table for signing, and when it had been signed the accompanying treaties were passed about.

ROTARY NO PLACE FOR INTOLERANCE OR BIGOTRY, SAYS DISTRICT GOVERNOR

Leonard Skeggs, Youngstown, Making Annual Visit Here, Outlines Club's Aims.

Rotary is no place for intolerance or bigotry, Leonard Skeggs, Youngstown, district governor of the 21st district of Rotary, told 50 members of the local club and their guests at the Y. M. C. A., at noon today. It was Skeggs' annual visit to the East Liverpool Rotary club.

Skeggs, who is secretary of the Youngstown Y. M. C. A., was introduced by Malcolm Thompson, club vice-president, who presided in the absence of B. J. Ross, Wellsville.

The chorus singing was led by Attorney Blaine H. Cochran. Music was furnished by an orchestra made up of Wellsville high school students, engaged by Ross for the luncheon. Skeggs conferred with members of the board of directors following the luncheon.

The aims and objects of Rotary were discussed by Skeggs.

"Rotary will increase your broad-mindedness if you are to receive the full benefits of the organization," he said. "There is no place in Rotary for intolerance or bigotry. I am a Protestant and a Mason but I appreciate the friendship of my Jewish and Catholic friends. In a club in this district recently chartered, the president is a Presbyterian minister, the vice president is a Jew, while the secretary is a Catholic. That's the kind of an organization Rotary is.

YULETIDE WELFARE WORK DISCUSSED AT LIONS' CLUB DINNER MEETING

Committee is Named to Devise Means of Financing Movement in Behalf of Needy Families.

Christmas relief plans were discussed at the dinner meeting of the Lions' club, held in the banquet hall of the Y. M. C. A., last evening.

Last year, the club furnished dinners to a score or more needy families in this city, but inasmuch as the Salvation Army and church organizations will handle this form of relief during the approaching holiday season other form of welfare work will be taken up.

The suggestion was made that the club furnish blankets to families in need. A committee, consisting of Joseph Smith, Charles Kidd and Attorney W. S. Stevenson was named to devise ways and means of raising funds with which to finance the relief work and make recommendations at the next meeting.

In the absence of President Emmett Myler, who is ill, Vice President Harry Brokaw presided. Moses E. Eppley, Chester, was elected third vice president to fill a vacancy. Charles Kidd and Attorney G. L. Brokaw were chosen directors for two-year terms.

Attendance prizes, furnished by Joseph Smith and Charles Kidd, were awarded to Attorney Harry and G. L. Brokaw. K. W. Gero reported for the boys' committee of which he is chairman; W. S. Stevenson, for the blind relief committee and H. D. Rist, for the moral code committee.

LAD CONFESSES HE SLEW CHUM WITH AX

TODAY

Not Knocking Society But—
Ellin Mackay Rebels.
Flouts "The Stag Line."
Submarines! Help Them.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

(The opinions expressed in this column are strictly those of Mr. Brisbane and not necessarily in consonance with the policies of The Review-Tribune).

Many rebellions, nearly all justified, stand out in the world's history. The latest is that of a young woman, Miss Ellin Mackay. Her father is rich, he married a Duer, that put him and his money into society. His own charm kept him there.

The daughter, a "rebel" of the moment, was invited everywhere. And her father gave parties, "blowouts," so to speak, that you might really call "parties." That was the rub.

When Miss "Rebel" Ellin Mackay went to the parties she had to look at young men lined up in what she calls "the stag line." That was a little more than she could bear. As a child at her mother's knee, she had learned to recite, "Water, water everywhere, and not a drop to drink."

Now, in her publicly printed rebellion she cries, "Faces, faces everywhere, and not a brain to think."

She says in substance that the scientists struggling, vainly thus far, to create a perfect vacuum make the mistake of their lives when they don't annex a face from the stag line at one of her own father's formal balls. They would get in such a face a perfect vacuum, one in which a feather and a lead bullet would drop 100 feet, start together and hit the floor together, if you know what we mean and understand a little science.

This poor little rich rebel, she writes really well for an amateur and might make a living as a sob sister on a newspaper, does not want to be driven to the cabarets, where imitation Negroes stretch their lips, and imitation Gilda Grays wiggle their hips. But what can she do?

Between mixed company at the cabarets, and mixed boredom in the "stag line," she bows to fate, calls a taxi, and "beats it" to the cabaret.

There at least men are men, and if they do have "pathfinders" that appraise their jewels and steal them later, they are at least amusing about it.

Nobody in that stag line even has brains enough to steal jewelry, to say nothing of finding his way to the place where the maid leaves the jewelery on the dressing table.

Do you suggest that the young might compromise and fly from the stag line, go to the library of the Ladies' Colony club, there to read serious books?

You don't understand. You don't know that the only thing in the world more utterly boring than the stag line is the row of ladies at the Colony club. And as for books, the modern girl has read them all, or at least she knows by intimation everything that is in them.

No, while the stag line stands, a row of clothing store dummies, with heads nicely oiled, but not working, there is no place for a beautiful young female rebel at the cabaret.

There the saxophone moans, the lady with the past builds up her future, the saxophone does its stuff. And if

GORDON PIRIE KILLS FRIEND, CONCEALS BODY, GOES TO SHOW

New York Prisoner Murdered "Because He Got Notion."

WALKS TO JAIL

Uses Victim's Money to Buy Sodas for Three Girls.

NEW YORK, Dec. 1.—Gordon Pirie, 20, walked into a police station early today and confessed that he had killed his chum, George Nye, 19, with an ax "because he got the notion."

Police had been searching for Pirie ever since yesterday morning when his 16-year-old sister, Margaret, was startled into hysterics by the discovery of Nye's body under her bed.

Girl Urges Him to Confess.

After striking his victim six times, Pirie told District Attorney John E. McGeehan, he took $5.20 from the dead man's clothing, went out and spent the day playing pool, and ended it by going to a movie and buying ice cream sodas for three girls.

Pirie, according to the authorities, at first told conflicting stories. His confession came after the arrival of a girl friend, Violet Schmidt, whom he had escorted to her home before he had gone to the movies. Miss Schmidt, believing wholeheartedly in her friend's innocense, besought him to tell the truth.

Pirie's story, as retold by the district attorney, was that he arrived home shortly after midnight Saturday and found his friend, Nye, already asleep. He awakened him and they chatter pleasantly of money-making opportunities in Florida whence Pirie had just returned. The pair were alone in the apartment, Gordon's mother being in a hospital and his sister spending the week-end with relatives. Both finally went to sleep.

Hit Sleeping Lad Six Times.

Pirie awoke at 6:30 Sunday morning, went out to buy the Sunday papers. He returned and after reading for a little while fell asleep—it was when he re-awoke that the notion of killing Nye came to him, he said.

Going to the toolbox in the kitchen he got the ax and went back to the bedroom where Nye still lay sleeping.

"I hit him six times on the head and then looked at him to see that he was dead," were the words Pirie used, according to the district attorney.

Nye, being undressed, Pirie clothed him in overalls, washed the dead youth's face with a wet towel, and

SALVATION ARMY ASKS $3,000 FOR CHRISTMAS AND WINTER RELIEF FUND

LEADS CAMPAIGN TO AID NEEDY

Field Major Joseph Hughes.

The Salvation Army's Christmas dinner and winter relief fund campaign in the district, which opened today, is being directed by Field Major Joseph Hughes, who was an overseas' welfare worker during the World war.

Women Begin Canvass of Industrial Plants for Money to Meet Needs of District Poor.

STREET KETTLES WILL BE USED

Appeals for Clothing, Fuel and Groceries Pour Into Citadel, Field Major Hughes Says.

The Salvation Army today launched its campaign for funds to finance its Christmas dinner and winter relief activities.

Approximately $3,000 or more will be required to meet the demands for assistance during the holiday and winter seasons according to Field Major Joseph Hughes.

A committee of women today started to canvass in potteries and other factories. Six kettles will be placed on the streets next Saturday—four in the downtown district, one in East End and one in Wellsville. The kettles, in charge of Salvation Army lassies, will be on the streets on every shopping day until Christmas.

Appeals for relief are pouring into Salvation Army citadel daily. Clothing, groceries, and fuel are being furnished to the poor and needy, Major Hughes said.

To Distribute 500 Baskets.

Last year more than 500 baskets, each containing foodstuffs sufficient for two meals for the averaged family, were distributed in East Liverpool, Wellsville, Chester and Newell, and indications are that this number will be required again this year. This relief work alone requires an expenditure of approximately $1,500.

A personal appeal through the mails is to be made next week. Approximately 1,500 prospects, many of them were contributors in years past, are to be urged to support the campaign.

Major Hughes came here last fall, succeeding Adjutant John G. Dean, who was sent to a Cleveland station. Major and Mrs. Hughes are in the receipt of a letter from the Better Akron Federation, made up of representatives of 16 relief, welfare and charitable organizations, expressing "our deep feeling of appreciation for the friendly spirit of co-operation and valuable service that you gave to our community during the many years it was your privilege to serve it."

Daughter Assists in Work.

The letter adds: "We all know of the valuable work that you were doing and of course are sorry to have you leave. Our best wishes and love go with you in your new field of endeavor."

Major and Mrs. Hughes are being assisted at the local corps headquarters by their daughter, Miss Lily Hughes, who has been commissioned a lieutenant. Miss Hughes came here about a year ago and was continued in the local post after the arrival of her parents.

Major Hughes was a welfare worker with the Salvation Army during the World War, having been connected with the First Division for several months.

THREE NEGROES KILLED AND 19 HURT IN STORM

Tropical Disturbance Hits Tampa and Other Florida Cities.

POWER CUT OFF

Gale Topples Work Barracks on Davis Island.

TAMPA, Fla., Dec. 1.—Three negroes dead and nineteen injured represented the toll today of Tampa's worst storm in four years. The dead and injured were taken from the debris of work barracks on Davis Island, which were blown over by a 48 mile gale.

With power off, traffic lights out the street cars halted in many places, Tampa business was practically at a stand still today.

Other than a small blaze which firemen battled throughout early morning, preventing its spread to neighboring houses, the mishap on Davis island was the only disastrous effect of the storm felt here.

All wire communications with Tampa from the north were cut off except for one commercial wire.

Artificial Sunlight, Which Suddenly Fails in Midst of Ceremonies, Comes on Again Just as Germans, First to Act, Are Called Upon to Sign Epoch-making Documents.

By H. K. REYNOLDS.

LONDON, Dec. 1.—The Locarno security pact, Europe's "Charter of Peace," was signed in the reception hall of the foreign office by the leading statesmen of the continent at 11:25 this morning.

The ceremonies opened promptly at 11 o'clock when Austen Chamberlain called the assemblage to order and made a brief introductory speech, lauding the treaties and expressing the hope that they meant more auspicious times for Europe. Other delegates also made brief addresses.

The room where the treaties were being signed was flooded with artificial sunlight, which suddenly failed in the midst of the ceremonies, but just as the Germans were called upon to sign the treaty, their signature being first as the treaties were signed alphabetically in accordance with the French spelling, the light came on again.

Deposit Treaties at Geneva.

After the signing of the treaties the Germans were handed a formal note from the Allies, setting forth the allied interpretation of article XVI of the League of Nations covenant as agreed at Locarno.

The treaties signed today, with seals affixed, will be deposited with the League of Nations at Geneva.

Foreign Minister Chamberlain addressed the assembly in French, and Chancellor Luther of Germany, who responded, spoke in English. Brief speeches of congratulations were made by M. Briand, Count Scialoja, and M. Vandervelde.

The security pact was passed about the horseshoe table for signing, and when it had been signed the accompanying treaties were passed about.

Electricity to Move Half of R. R. Traffic Soon, Says Expert

NEW HAVEN, Conn.—Half of America's railroad traffic will be moved electrically in the next generation, according to F. H. Shapard, expert on traction, in an address made to Yale engineering students here.

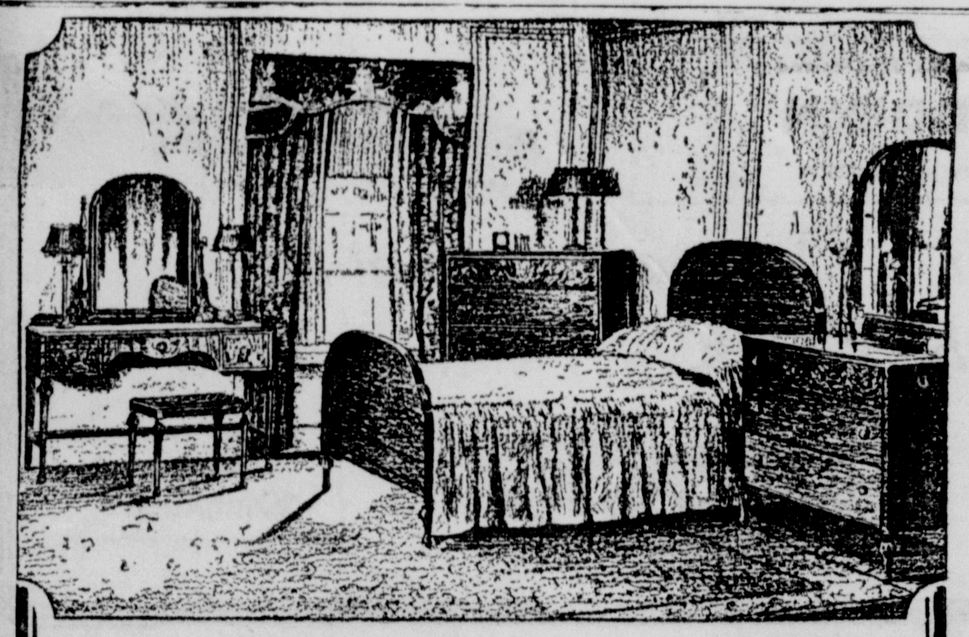

There are 175,000 miles of railroad, Mr. Shepard said, "which will never develop into main thoroughfares of traffic and a considerable proportion will be supplanted by automotive vehicles because of the heavy cost of steam operation.'

"Out of 200,000 miles of railroad now operated in this country, about 25,000 miles carry the greater part of the total traffic movement, and it is on these busy lines that electrification may be expected. The demand for traffic on these lines doubles every ten or twelve years and will undoubtedly continue to increase at about this same rate for a long time in the future.'

This Berkey & Gay Bedroom Suite at $259.00

A Very Exceptional Value in Quality Furniture

WE URGE you to inspect this charming bedroom suite at the earliest opportunity.

Created by and bearing the coveted shopmark of Berkey & Gay, we are not extravagant in calling it the outstanding value of the year in the quality field.

The lines are exquisite in their simplicity. The chief wood used is straight grain American walnut, with butt walnut figuring. All drawers are dust-proof and especially designed to prevent sticking. They are made of solid mahogany, with the exception of the bottoms, which are three-ply to prevent warping.

The toilet table is equipped with a sliding, partitioned tray of solid mahogany for holding pins, nicknacks, etc.—a convenience detail which is characteristic of Berkey & Gay design.

A beautiful, rich, mellow color tone has been especially developed for this suite, with a varnish finish, carefully rubbed and shaded by hand to a dull, glossy, velvety smoothness.

While The AVERILL is the least expensive of the new Fall offering of popular-priced Berkey & Gay bedroom and dining room suites, there is a wide choice of other popular values now on display on our floors.

This Shop Mark is inset in every Berkey & Gay production. It is the customer's protection when buying and his pride ever after

Electricity to Move Half of R. R. Traffic Soon, Says Expert

NEW HAVEN, Conn.—Half of America's railroad traffic will be moved electrically in the next generation, according to F. H. Shapard, expert on traction, in an address made to Yale engineering students here.

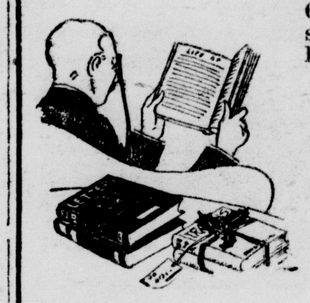

There are 175,000 miles of railroad, Mr. Shepard said, "which will never develop into main thoroughfares of traffic and a considerable proportion will be supplanted by automotive vehicles because of the heavy cost of steam operation.'

"Out of 200,000 miles of railroad now operated in this country, about 25,000 miles carry the greater part of the total traffic movement, and it is on these busy lines that electrification may be expected. The demand for traffic on these lines doubles every ten or twelve years and will undoubtedly continue to increase at about this same rate for a long time in the future.'

This Berkey & Gay Bedroom Suite at $259.00

A Very Exceptional Value in Quality Furniture

WE URGE you to inspect this charming bedroom suite at the earliest opportunity.

Created by and bearing the coveted shopmark of Berkey & Gay, we are not extravagant in calling it the outstanding value of the year in the quality field.

The lines are exquisite in their simplicity. The chief wood used is straight grain American walnut, with butt walnut figuring. All drawers are dust-proof and especially designed to prevent sticking. They are made of solid mahogany, with the exception of the bottoms, which are three-ply to prevent warping.

The toilet table is equipped with a sliding, partitioned tray of solid mahogany for holding pins, nicknacks, etc.—a convenience detail which is characteristic of Berkey & Gay design.

A beautiful, rich, mellow color tone has been especially developed for this suite, with a varnish finish, carefully rubbed and shaded by hand to a dull, glossy, velvety smoothness.

While The AVERILL is the least expensive of the new Fall offering of popular-priced Berkey & Gay bedroom and dining room suites, there is a wide choice of other popular values now on display on our floors.

This Shop Mark is inset in every Berkey & Gay production. It is the customer's protection when buying and his pride ever after

GERMS LOSE POWER IF OUT OF PLACE

Russian Scientist Makes Valuable Discovery.

Washington.—Germs of diseases that are deadly to an animal or a human being if they find their way into the part of the body they usually afflict, may be entirely harmless if they are planted in another organ or tissue. Doses of anthrax germs a thousand times larger than an ordinary fatal injection have been introduced into the bodies of guinea pigs with no more effect than so much salt water; yet if the slightest trace of the fluid containing them found its way into a scratch on the skin, the animal very quickly died.

These experiments, which promise revolutionary results in the sciences of bacteriology and pathology, are being conducted at the Pasteur institute in Paris by Dr. A. Besredka, a young Russian scientist, according to Dr. Erwin F. Smith, pathologist of the United States Department of Agriculture, who has just returned from a tour of inspection through European laboratories.

Doctor Besredka, he says, has discovered an entirely new principle in bacteriology which has been named "local immunity." According to this principle, disease-causing organisms are frequently quite impotent to do harm away from their usual habitat.

Anthrax, for example, is always an affliction of the skin and surface tissues. Doctor Besredka devised means for planting cultures of the germs deep in the muscular tissue, in the lungs and elsewhere in the bodies of guinea pigs. Aside from a little inflammation, probably due to the mechanical irritation of the instruments used, the animals showed no signs of harm from the usually deadly organisms.

Less serious skin infections, like those caused by staphylococcus, the germ of boils, were shown to act in the same way.

Doctor Besredka's discoveries have already become of practical importance in medicine. After showing that susceptibility to bacterial infection was local, the Russian scientist also showed that immunity could be conferred more effectively by serums and other preventive means if applied equally directly to the regions usually attacked by the disease.

Since typhoid fever is a disease of the digestive tract, Paris physicians are now following Doctor Besredka's principle, and administering antityphoid serum through the mouth rather than by means of injection into the arm. Doctor Besredka claims that when administered in the ordinary way the serum gets no chance to act until the blood has carried it from the muscles of the arm into the intestinal tract.

UNIVERSITY NEEDS STATED TO BOARD

Arguments and data for an expansion of the facilities of West Virginia university were presented to the members of the state board of education at its meeting in Morgantown a few days ago. Requests for greater schools of medicine and journalism appeared to be urgent, Secretary J. F. Marsh said yesterday.

Dan J. N. Simpson, of the college of medicine, said there were nearly 800 applicants for admission to this year's first class, though but 60 were admitted, applicants from West Virginia being given preference in this selection. The enrollment for this year is 117. After completing the two-year course, they will have to enroll at some other medical school to continue their studies. It was further pointed out that the state needs about 50 new physicians every year to replace those who die or retire or move away and to care for the needs of an increasing population.

Circuit Court Adjourns.

Hancock county circuit court has adjourned until March when the spring term will open. Judge J. Harold Brennan granted the following divorces on the last day: Millard McGee from Mary McGee and Mary Conchar from Eli Conchar.

EAST LIVERPOOL — AMERICA'S POTTERY CENTER

TUESDAY, DECEMBER 1, 1925.

Blazing Path To Health

The City Federation of Women's Clubs today launched its annual sale of Christmas seals—a campaign which finances the determined fight that is being made on tuberculosis in the East Liverpool district and, also, contributes to the fund for the nation-wide educational movement to check the toll of human life claimed every year by this malady.

With a score of booth chairmen and other co-workers assisting, Mrs. Louis Steinfeld, chairman of the health committee, and Mrs. Charles Larkins and Mrs. John S. Goodwin, secretary-treasurer of the Club Federation, will endeavor to raise a $3,000 quota in the city during the next ten days. Of this sum, $2,400 is to be retained for local needs, mainly to pay the salary of a public health nurse and provide financial aid for sufferers from the white plague.

The importance of investing in health missives, which should be used on Yuletide letters and parcels, is attested by the results obtained since this movement was launched in the state by the Ohio Public Health association, of which the Club Federation is a unit. Within less than two decades the death rate from tuberculosis has been reduced from 150 deaths per 100,000 population in 1910 to 81.7 in 1924. The disease, once the chief cause of death, has been relegated to fifth place.

However, tuberculosis has not yet been conquered. It still causes more than 5,000 deaths annually in Ohio—all of them preventable. And to reduce this appalling toll, greater and more effective organization—more people interested and more trained workers for the intelligent direction of effort—is needed.

People of East Liverpool are now asked to shoulder their share of the task of helping to check the inroads of the malady. And one way to aid this commendable movement is to purchase Christmas health seals. It is an investment that pays dividends in the form of better health.

Faith In France

A momentous event occurreed in the German reichstag the other day. The majority voted to approve the Locarno agreements—but that was not it. The spirit was more important than the vote.

Foreign Minister Stresemann stood up and told his fellow-Germans, "We have confidence in France!" And as an American correspondent reports the scene, "A German reichstag which has echoed for 11 years with denunciations of the reich's Latin neighbor roared with applause from the bulk of the deputies on the floor and from the galleries, jammed to the choking point with representative Germans."

Little sign there of the "will to revenge" which followed the "will to conquer."

And why does Germany frankly echo this confidence in France professed by the brilliant Stresemann? Because, as he himself explains, "The France of today is not the France of Poincare."

The French sword-rattling has ceased. France at last is ready to conciliate her enemy and co-operate in the peaceful restoration of Europe. Briand stands for common sense and good will.

This is the big fact which emerged from Locarno and has been evident since in all the confusion of French politics. And if Germany can "trust France," the rest of the world can.

World Court Next

It looks now as if America is going to join the world court, and that right soon. Opposition continues in various quarters, but a canvas of the senate is said to show that the advocates of adherence have to two-thirds majority.

There is anticipation of a heated and prolonged debate when the issue it taken up on December 7. The irreconcileables, headed by Senator Borah, are expected to use all their ammunition. The lines are laid for a big battle. But the Washington correspondents foresee almost certain victory for President Coolidge and the many powerful groups, public and private, who have long urged this step.

Possibly less senatorial opposition will develop than is now looked for. The European situation is greatly changed since the last debate on this issue. The Locarno agreements, ratified in London, and the accompanying evidences of good will and co-opera between Germany and the allies, seem to show a Europe sincerely turning toward peace, disarmament and mutual helpfulness. America can co-operate more freely and safely with the other powers in such a mood.

After Locarno, American participation in the international court of justice seems the next obvious step. The senate can hardly help sensing that, as the public does.

Speaking of the college girl smoking problem, we s'pose the new Duke university in North Carolina will insist on the girls rolling their own.

Back to normalcy in France. France is always normal when changing governments.

In a little while every American family will take the money saved by federal tax reduction and spend it on a better car.

"Red" Grange is proving again that higher education pays.

NEW YORK DAYBYDAY

By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, Dec. 1.—The Aquarium is ofted regarded by New Yorkers as a yokel rendezvous. Perhaps this is because of many signs: "Beware of pickpockets." Leather snatchers reap a big harvest there while unsuspecting victims rivet their attention on the glass-encased grottoes.

There are, strangely enough, thousands of New Yorkers who have never seen the Aquarium, yet few visitors fail to make the visit to Battery Park. Hours may be spent in the aquarium with pleasure and profit but the ancient admonition endures: "Beware of pickpockets.

Keepers will tell you scarcely a day passes that some wild-eyed visitor does not clap his hand to his pocket and suddenly grow white. Few of them report the offense to police. It might get in the papers back home.

The tanks of fish offer an incongruous phantasy. There are those that change color with moments — wondrous shades of blue, sea green, pink and yellow. Fish with tails to shame a peacock. The green moray, like a huge eel, apparently in eternal struggle to breathe.

The tiny, perky sea horse with heads so startlingly like that of Old Dobbin, and moving bolt upright. Angel fish, with trusting fawn-like eyes. Sea-robins. The albino brook trout, which occurs not only once, but regularly, among 100,000 fishes. (No, we do not know who counts them).

Parrot fish with marvelous fins. Mudfish with brilliant sapphire eyes. And, of course, the larger specimens, such as sea lions, alligators and turtles, and that most hideous exhibit of all—the only toadfish. But mostly you see beauty and color.

The Aquarium is one of the city's most historic buildings, built in 1811. It was then Castle Garden, where Jenny Lind made her American debut. It was here Morse first gave public demonstration of the telegraph. It has been the scene of receptions to Lafayette and Presidents Jackson, Tyler and Van Buren.

Uptowners, indeed, often neglect the rare interest the lower tip of the island affords. In many ways narrow, bubbling Nassau street is the sprightliest thoroughfare in town. Travelers have compared it to odd corners one comes upon suddenly in London. Pedestrians overflow the sidewalks and bulge into the street. The shops are a hodge-podge—cafeterias with dance orchestras, cellar luggage caves, upstairs pool parlours, while-you-wait opticians, pastry shops, stationery stores, sidewalk necktie and sock stands and dinty rooms heralding "Dress Suits and Cutaways For Rent." Nassau seems to be last stand of the Apollo-esque gents who serve as window demonstrators—actors in the peripatetic pantomime of pants pressing, collar hooking and necktie adjustment. All these sights are clotted together in a struggling heap, and from 9 in the morning until 6 at night, Nassau is a hubbub of life, but after dusk it is entirely deserted.

On State street, near the Battery, is the Mission of Our Lady of the Rosary for Immigrant Girls. It is the most spotless building in town, frame, with ivy-clad porches and snowy white curtains. Here timid immigrant girls are given hearty welcome and haven. It has furnished inspiration for a book —Bunner's "Story of a New York House."

No. 3 Bridge street is where Washington Irving spent his final days. It is a short, rather gloomy thoroughfare, yet until recently it was the home of Henry L. Doherty, the oil magnate, until he migrated to a sky-scraper roof bungalow on State street.

The best view of Miss Liberty is in Battery Park. She has been subjected to much jest of late, but I do not believe anyone has gazed upon her for the first time without a slightly quickened pulse. She has a way, this lady.

HASKIN'S LETTER

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN

Golden Rule Sunday.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 1.—Golden Rule Sunday will be observed this year on Dec. 6. Fifty-one nations joined in the observance of the day last year and as a result the relief work of the International Near East association received the greatest impetus it has ever had.

The immediate beneficiaries of International Golden Rule Sunday are the orphaned children of the Near East. There are 35,000 of them now under the care of the Near East Relief, and for them 27,825,000 meals must be provided for the next year. In addition there is an even larger number of other orphans, half-orphans and destitute children in broken families and refugee camps who should be fed, and directors of the work say that many of them will undoubtedly die during the severe weather of the approaching winter if additional relief is not forthcoming.

Charles V. Vickrey, president of the Near East Relief, points ou that these children are international wards, being a part of the awful legacy of the disastrous World war.

"They are not only without father, without mother, and without known responsible relatives," says Mr. Vickrey, "but many of them are without country. They have no legal claim upon the land or the resources of the over-populated, war-ravaged, impoverished territories to which they have been exiled. They are as innocent of any crime and are as much entitled to daily food and other necessities of life as are the children in our own homes. Their parents were killed or died of persecution, deportation, exposure, and starvation in connection with the various disasters of the recent war, from the full crushing burden of which we, in America, were graciously spared. Many of the parents of these children sacrificed their lives in the defense of the principle of religious liberty."

Practically all of the children are under 16 years of age, and most of them are under 12 years. All of them are too young to be thrown upon their own resources, and it is recognized that they would be helpless and hopeless were it not for the work that is being carried on in the spirit of the Golden Rule.

Conditions in One Orphanage.

About 5,000 of these children are being cared for by the Polygon Orphanage at Alexandropol. A vivid picture of the conditions surrounding the work there was written by the directors of this orphanage on Golden Rule Sunday last year.

"It is warmer tonight only 25 degrees below zero," he wrote. "There is ten feet of snow on the ground, and the wolves can be heard at night. The children have no means to dry their wet feet. Under these conditions can you imagine what it means for them to give up voluntarily, as they have just done, nearly 50 per cent of their bread ration for use among the needy children in the refguee camps?"

It is claimed that at least a million people are living in the Near East today who would have perished but for the relief work of Americans. Of these million lives saved, a disproportionately large number are said to be children. Many of them have already been placed in positions of self support and usefulness, and more than 12,000 were graduated from the orphanges last year. Children from these institutions are also being placed in homes or apprenticed in industries as rapidly as possible and during the past year 13 862 were thus placed or otherwise discharged.

In the Caucasus the orphans, under the direction of agricultural experts sent out from the United States, are cultivating and developing 22,000 acres of land which the government has placed at the disposal of the Near East Relief, tax and rent free. The other boys, on a mode ldairy farm, provide the dairy products for a near-by orphange family of 12,000 children.

In the Aegean Sea, on the island of Syra, made famous in the songs of Homer, is an orphanage colony of 1,800 boys and girls occupying a group of stone buildings constructed by the older boys under American supervision.

Practically all trades and industries are represented in the activities of the orphanages. The girls make or re-make much of the clothing, besides producing laces, embroideries, rugs, and other articles for sale through Near East Industries. The boys do blacksmithing, shoemaking, carpentering, tinsmithing, tailoring and agricultural work, and also make pottery. Bookbinding, printing, commercial training, and nursing are among the trades and professions taught the older orphans before they are graduated or apprenticed in self-support.

President Coolidge Approves.

"This expression of brotherhood inevitably has a beneficial effect upon those who give as well as those who receive," said President Coolidge in expressing his approval of the Golden Rule movement. "As practical help is the best expression of friendship, I feel that the aid which we may give out of our prosperity to those impoverished by war may be of the utmost value in the promotion of international good will. The consistent observance of Golden Rule Sunday can not but help to bring about the application of the Golden Rule itself to the misunderstandings of nations and individuals.

"I earnestly hope that the voluntary observance of this day may become increasingly prevalent, in the homes of America and throughout the world."

The main feature of Golden Rule Sunday is the serving of a dinner of the limited and simple character that is the daily lot of the Near East orphans. The money saved on such a dinner, it is urged, should be contributed to the relief work. Golden Rule dinners are served not only in homes, but in hotels, clubs and cafes.

A way has been developed by the organization whereby orphan children may be individually supported by an American sponsor without involving the problems of actual orphan adoption.

An Orphan Sponsorship in the Near East provides complete orphanage care—food, shelter, clothing, and industrial or agricultural training that will insure self support at the age of 16 for some orphan boy or girl. A photograph, together, with the name and history of the boy or girl being so cared for and with regular reports of progress are sent to those who undertake the support of a child under this plan.

The sum of $2 will supply 40 meals for one of the Near East orphans, $5 will insure his support for a month, and $60 will provide for him for the full period of a year. One hundred dollars will support, educate, and give industrial training to a child for one year and $500 will make it possible for a ten-year-old child to be trained until he is graduated into self-support at the age of 16. One thousand dollars will care for and educate a "birdie" in the Bird's Nest Orphanage until the age of 16.

Typical meals served to the children in the Near East institutions consist of cocoa and bread for breakfast, beans and bread for dinner, with lamb stew once weekly, and grits, stewed apricots and bread for supper.

Wild Cats and Black Squirrels Sign of Cold Spell in Connecticut

HARTFORD.—Wild cats have been more numerous in Connecticut this fall than at any time in generations, according to statistics on file with the Fish and Game commission's office here. One genuine specimen was shot on the Hartford meadows with the city sykscrapers in easy view.

Several hunting dogs have been injured in battles with the animals in Eastern Connecticut, two dogs being killed outright. Poultry has become a steady diet with the wild cats until farmers are up in arms over a wide extent of territory. With the wild cats appear black squirrels for the first time in a long range of years and old timers believe a cold winter is indicated.

BACKACHE GIVEN QUICK RELIEF

Tried simple home treatment and pain stops

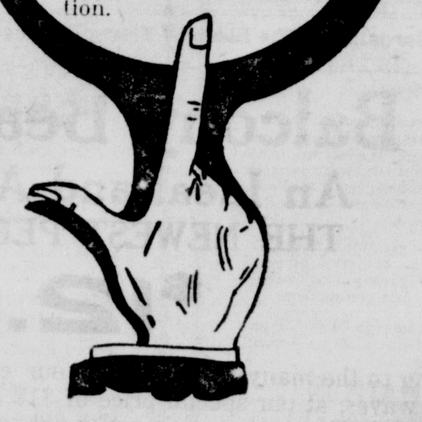

An aching back is often the result of tired, over-strained muscles, and can be given quick and complete relief with a very simple home treatment.

"I had such a backache I didn't know what to do," writes a New York woman. "I looked through my medicine cabinet to see if I could find something to help me—and there was a bottle of Sloan's Liniment. I used it, and in half an hour I was better. The next day I went to a big engagement party. Now, when anyone has a pain, I say 'use Sloan's.'"

The marvelous effectiveness of Sloan's is due to the stimulating effect that it has upon the circulation. Straight to the sick, aching tissues, it sends a healing tide of fresh new blood—clears out the trouble—kills the pain.

So pleasant and clean to use, too. You don't even have to rub. Just pat it on gently and you will get immediate results. All druggists—35 cents

EAST LIVERPOOL — AMERICA'S POTTERY CENTER

TUESDAY, DECEMBER 1, 1925.

Blazing Path To Health

The City Federation of Women's Clubs today launched its annual sale of Christmas seals—a campaign which finances the determined fight that is being made on tuberculosis in the East Liverpool district and, also, contributes to the fund for the nation-wide educational movement to check the toll of human life claimed every year by this malady.

With a score of booth chairmen and other co-workers assisting, Mrs. Louis Steinfeld, chairman of the health committee, and Mrs. Charles Larkins and Mrs. John S. Goodwin, secretary-treasurer of the Club Federation, will endeavor to raise a $3,000 quota in the city during the next ten days. Of this sum, $2,400 is to be retained for local needs, mainly to pay the salary of a public health nurse and provide financial aid for sufferers from the white plague.

The importance of investing in health missives, which should be used on Yuletide letters and parcels, is attested by the results obtained since this movement was launched in the state by the Ohio Public Health association, of which the Club Federation is a unit. Within less than two decades the death rate from tuberculosis has been reduced from 150 deaths per 100,000 population in 1910 to 81.7 in 1924. The disease, once the chief cause of death, has been relegated to fifth place.

However, tuberculosis has not yet been conquered. It still causes more than 5,000 deaths annually in Ohio—all of them preventable. And to reduce this appalling toll, greater and more effective organization—more people interested and more trained workers for the intelligent direction of effort—is needed.

People of East Liverpool are now asked to shoulder their share of the task of helping to check the inroads of the malady. And one way to aid this commendable movement is to purchase Christmas health seals. It is an investment that pays dividends in the form of better health.

Faith In France

A momentous event occurreed in the German reichstag the other day. The majority voted to approve the Locarno agreements—but that was not it. The spirit was more important than the vote.

Foreign Minister Stresemann stood up and told his fellow-Germans, "We have confidence in France!" And as an American correspondent reports the scene, "A German reichstag which has echoed for 11 years with denunciations of the reich's Latin neighbor roared with applause from the bulk of the deputies on the floor and from the galleries, jammed to the choking point with representative Germans."

Little sign there of the "will to revenge" which followed the "will to conquer."

And why does Germany frankly echo this confidence in France professed by the brilliant Stresemann? Because, as he himself explains, "The France of today is not the France of Poincare."

The French sword-rattling has ceased. France at last is ready to conciliate her enemy and co-operate in the peaceful restoration of Europe. Briand stands for common sense and good will.

This is the big fact which emerged from Locarno and has been evident since in all the confusion of French politics. And if Germany can "trust France," the rest of the world can.

World Court Next

It looks now as if America is going to join the world court, and that right soon. Opposition continues in various quarters, but a canvas of the senate is said to show that the advocates of adherence have to two-thirds majority.

There is anticipation of a heated and prolonged debate when the issue it taken up on December 7. The irreconcileables, headed by Senator Borah, are expected to use all their ammunition. The lines are laid for a big battle. But the Washington correspondents foresee almost certain victory for President Coolidge and the many powerful groups, public and private, who have long urged this step.

Possibly less senatorial opposition will develop than is now looked for. The European situation is greatly changed since the last debate on this issue. The Locarno agreements, ratified in London, and the accompanying evidences of good will and co-opera between Germany and the allies, seem to show a Europe sincerely turning toward peace, disarmament and mutual helpfulness. America can co-operate more freely and safely with the other powers in such a mood.

After Locarno, American participation in the international court of justice seems the next obvious step. The senate can hardly help sensing that, as the public does.

Speaking of the college girl smoking problem, we s'pose the new Duke university in North Carolina will insist on the girls rolling their own.

HASKIN'S LETTER

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN

Golden Rule Sunday.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 1.—Golden Rule Sunday will be observed this year on Dec. 6. Fifty-one nations joined in the observance of the day last year and as a result the relief work of the International Near East association received the greatest impetus it has ever had.

The immediate beneficiaries of International Golden Rule Sunday are the orphaned children of the Near East. There are 35,000 of them now under the care of the Near East Relief, and for them 27,825,000 meals must be provided for the next year. In addition there is an even larger number of other orphans, half-orphans and destitute children in broken families and refugee camps who should be fed, and directors of the work say that many of them will undoubtedly die during the severe weather of the approaching winter if additional relief is not forthcoming.

Practically all of the children are under 16 years of age, and most of them are under 12 years. All of them are too young to be thrown upon their own resources, and it is recognized that they would be helpless and hopeless were it not for the work that is being carried on in the spirit of the Golden Rule.

About 5,000 of these children are being cared for by the Polygon Orphanage at Alexandropol. A vivid picture of the conditions surrounding the work there was written by the directors of this orphanage on Golden Rule Sunday last year.

One hundred dollars will support, educate, and give industrial training to a child for one year and $500 will make it possible for a ten-year-old child to be trained until he is graduated into self-support at the age of 16. One thousand dollars will care for and educate a "birdie" in the Bird's Nest Orphanage until the age of 16.

Typical meals served to the children in the Near East institutions consist of cocoa and bread for breakfast, beans and bread for dinner, with lamb stew once weekly, and grits, stewed apricots and bread for supper.

BACKACHE GIVEN QUICK RELIEF

Tried simple home treatment and pain stops

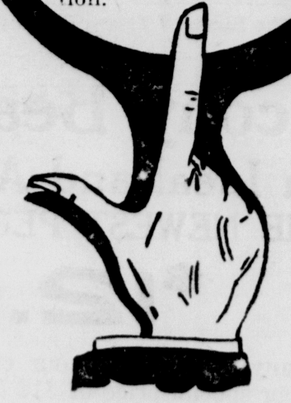

An aching back is often the result of tired, over-strained muscles, and can be given quick and complete relief with a very simple home treatment.

"I had such a backache I didn't know what to do," writes a New York woman. "I looked through my medicine cabinet to see if I could find something to help me—and there was a bottle of Sloan's Liniment. I used it, and in half an hour I was better. The next day I went to a big engagement party. Now, when anyone has a pain, I say 'use Sloan's.'"

The marvelous effectiveness of Sloan's is due to the stimulating effect that it has upon the circulation. Straight to the sick, aching tissues, it sends a healing tide of fresh new blood—clears out the trouble—kills the pain.

So pleasant and clean to use, too. You don't even have to rub. Just pat it on gently and you will get immediate results. All druggists—35 cents

METHUSELAH'S WIFE

THE STORY OF A GIRL WHO MARRIED FOR MONEY — BY EDGAR DOE NORRIS

TWELVE.

Rebellion had at last surged up in Laurel Todd Harwood. Until now she had been able to keep her temper when Noble found fault. She pulled her arm free from his grasp and pushed over to the end of the seat to stare out into the darkness, struggling to check the tears that were moistening her eyes.

"Why, dearest, I'm not criticizing you! I'm just—." He was becoming angry now. "I—oh, damn!" He lapsed into silence with a shrug. "All women are alike," was the thought that was upon his mind. His first wife had been the same way, never willing to accept a suggestion.

Laurel wished now that they were going to a supper club—any place but the hotel.

When they at last attained the suite, she slumped down into a chair in the parlor and buried her face in her hands, dizzy with headache. Noble thaught she was crying, and stood regarding her, fuming with rage and regret. He hated tears. His first wife had used them copiously.

"Dearest, I didn't mean to hurt your feelings. I wasn't criticizing, I was just telling you. I thought you wanted me to tell you about such things. I—"

She raised up, her eyes blinking in the light. "I'm sorroy I lost my temper, dear. Let's not say anymore about it." Her lone desire was to get to bed.

He could see now that her eyes were dry, and felt better. "Your maid probably is alsleep, but we can get her up, if you need her."

"Never mind." She walked wearily into her dressing-room, his eyes following her.

For several minutes he stood lost in thought, then he shrugged, and directed his steps into his own dressing-room, pulling at his cravat and unbottoning his collar as he walked.

Laurel was awakened by Noble's kiss. "I must go now, dear. I shall probably telephone you before you leave the hotel. If you go out after lunch, call the hotel about 3 o'clock there probably will be a message for you.' She vaguely understood what he said, and nodded. Her head felt twice its normal size, and her mouth was parched.

When Noble had gone, the maid entered and opened the curtains, flooding the room with the mid morning sun. Laurel's strap-watch showed that it was 10 o'clock. She looked hazily around the room, stiffling a yawn, Her clothing was in a disordered heap upon a chair.

The maid offered a glass of water, and stood waiting with a dressing gown. "Madame's bath is ready," she announced.

"Please get me all of the morning papers now." Laurel grabbed at the first subterfuge she could thing of to get the maid out of the room. She didn't want her to see that she had slept in a chemise; she had been too worn out when she retired to care.

When the maid returned Laurel was in the bath, feeling guilty. She was still there, lolling luxuriously in the scented water when the maid answered a telephone ring and reported that Mr. David Gaines was on the wire.

"David Gaines?" It took her a moment to remember. "Oh, yes."

"There is a telephone plug in the bathroom if you wish to talk with him.'

"Very well," she acquised awkwardly. She wasn't sure she wanted to. What could he have to sey.

"Good morning, I'd like to suggest a drive in Central Park as a wonderful bracer," the voice said.

It amused Laurel to be lying there, a snowy white instrument in her dripping hands, talking to a young man.

"It sounds interesting, but I have another engagement."

"This afternoon, then?'

"No, Mr. Gaines, I'm afraid not. Goodbye." That was the way to treat such men. She remembered those glances of his.

She decided not to tell Noble about the invitation.

As she breakfasted she glanced casually through the morning dailies she had sent for. She never read newspapers much, and now she went at it in haphazard fashion, absorbing a few lines here and a few lines there. She was startled when her eyes were drawn to the names, "Mr. and Mrs. Noble Harwood." They apeared in a small item in the Times about the Buckmaster dinner. Alert with interest now, she searched the society columns of other papers. There was a small item in the Herald-Tribune, too. The World did not mention the dinner, and neither did the American. The small-sized Daily News had four lines. She tore out the pages in which the items appeared, and laid them aside, with the idea of sending them to her mother. She couldn't help deriving satisfaction from seeing her name in the New York society columns. How far away Central City seemed.

When Noble telephoned her just before noon, the newspaper items were the first thing she told him about.

"Looks like I might be tied up all afternoon, honey dear," he declared. "I'm awfully sorry. Important conference I wasn't expecting. I'll surely be at the hotel by four or five o'clock, but you go out where you like."

"Oh, dear! This is two afternoons in succession."

"I know, dear, and I'm sorry. She detected an impatience in his tone.

"Shopping? I haven't any money."

"Oh, that's right! How careless of me." There was a pause. "I'll telephone the hotel cashier and have him send you some money. Goodbye."

She got up from the instrument in anger. Again! She was sure that he was going back to the place where he had spent the previous afternoon .... Now she wished that she had accepted David Gaines' invitation.

When she left the hotel, it was on foot. There was a hundred dollars in her purse. Two blocks and she was on Fifth avenue. The waves of surging humanity carried her on. At a corner she turned uncertainly. The sign over a motion picture theatre caught her attention. There she spent the early part of the afternoon. Back on Fifth avenue, she walked along uncertainly, without interest in windows or faces. She was thinking of Noble, picturing him with another woman. Suddenly she became conscious of being followed. She dared not look at the man. The first taxi she saw she hailed, and fled to the hotel. There, sick at heart, she awaited Noble Harwood's coming.

She left her husband on a farm to be with Wamquist.

Loneliest Man Found Studies Bird Life In Shetland Islands

EDINBURGH—The loneliest man in Britain has been discovered. He is Henry Edwardson, who for 37 years, has been a bird-watcher occupying a tiny wooden hut on the top of the rocky crags of Herma Ness, Unst, the most northerly inhabited island in the Shetland Islands.

For five months in every year for the past 37 years Edwardson has been the most notherly inhabitant of the British Isles, where in his tiny hut, he has observed the comings and goings, habits and customs, of the several breeds of birds inhabiting the island, which some years ago was declared a bird sanctuary.

Smokers in Kansas Use Mexican Weed; 3 Insane

Wichita, Kan.—Brought from its natural habitat by Mexicans and transplanted in the warm soil of southern Kansas, the marihuana weed has become the latest drug menace with which authorities in Kansas have to cope.

First intelligence of the growth, sale and use of the drug came when physicians at the Santa Fe hospital at Mulvane had three cases of insanity caused from use of the weed. One of the surgeons who had passed several years in northern Mexico, where marihuana smokers are numerous, recognized the symptoms and an investigation was started to determine the source of the drug.

The trail led to Wellington, from whence the insane patients had been sent to the hospital.

It was discovered the weed was being cultivated in the Mexican quarter and had even spread to nearby cornfields.

The Mexican custom is to dry the leaves and roll them into cigarettes.

An effort is being made at Wellington to destroy all growing plants. Federal laws do not prohibit the growth or sale of the drug, but a state law does.

RESERVOIR JOB BILL UP AGAIN

A measure to create the office of reservoir superintendent will probably come up before solons tonight for a second reading.

A movement to pass the ordinance under suspension of rules as an emergency bill at last week's session, failed, and the measure was given its first reading.

The duties of the superintendent, as proposed in the measure, would be to patrol the reservoir site, and take charge of operations at the big dam. He would qualify for the post under civil service regulations.

In voting against the measure, Solons Peters and Nicholson asserted that, in their opinion, the civil service phase of the question was not desirable.

'Is Zat So,' New American Comedy, Coming to Ceramic

Enroute From Chicago to Boston, New York Theatrical Success Will be Presented Here Friday, Dec. 11.

"Is Zat So?" the new American comedy, which scored a triumph at the Thirty-ninth street theatre in New York last winter and which was later moved to the larger Chanin theatre to accommodate the throngs that flocked to see it, will be the offering at the Ceramic theatre, Friday evening, Dec. 11, where it will be presented by the specially organized company of which Richard Taber, one of the authors, is a member, and which recently closed a six months' run in Chicago and will shortly open in Boston for an indefinite engagement.

"Is Zat So?" is from the pens of James Gleason and Richard Taber and is being directed by Earle Boothe in association with the Messrs. Shubert. It is said to be a clean comedy, with an original theme, witty lines, drolleries and mirth-provoking situations. It concerns the fortunes of a New York youth who tries for prize boxing honors in the hope that he may become the next lightweight champion of the world.

As the story opens the boxer and his manager are found on a park bench in the upper regions of Fifth avenue, lamenting the fate which had lost them a contest of the previous evening. They have about decided that life holds nothing in store for them, when a slightly inebriated gentleman of social standing and wealth approaches them with a proposition that they enter his home as butler and second man.

From this point of the story, until the final curtain, there are a series of situations well calculated to keep an audience in an uproar of laughter. There is a plot and counter-plot, intrigue, romance and pathos, but through it all the element of comedy is dominating; to such an extent, in fact, that at moments the action borders on farce.

Mr. Taber has associated with him in the presentation of the piece a group of brilliant and well-known players who make of it the sort of entertainment to please all classes of theatregoers, and add to their reputations for ability to play comedy roles. Those in the company are Hale Norcross, Jay Hanna, Percy Jennings, Ann Winston, Virginia Norton, Mary Ellen Hanley, Maude Carroll, Warburton Guilbert, Buddy Bages, Judson Langill, Sammy Green, Leah Hatch and William Pollard.

The show is offered in four secnes. Elaborate stage settings are used in the production, which runs for an hour and a half.

Spice is added to the program by a bevy of chorus girls, who appear in singing and dancing numbers. Numerous vaudeville specialities are presented.

Once Noted Distillery Passes Into Oblivion; Now Is Cider Plant

BLOOMSBURG, Pa.—The "Robert McHenry born 1812" slogan so famous a few years ago, has passed into oblivion with the changing of the once famous whisky distillery at Benton, near here, into a pasteurized cider plant. In addition to the manufacture of the cider product that is guaranteed to remain sweet, the management is making apple-butter for sale on the market.

The only building of the group that remains empty at the present time is the large bonding house that had been used for the storage of whisky at the time the Volstead act went into effect. Bootleggers entered the place and carted away all the barrels of aged whisky that had been stored there in compliance with governmental orders.

AUTO LICENSES FOR 1926 READY DECEMBER 10

Commissioner Hilbert Prepares to Distribute New Tags

RATE IS REDUCED

Applicants Must Present Bill of Sale, is Warning.

Distribution of the 1926 series of automobile license plates will be started by Deputy Commissioner J. S. Hilbert on or about December 10.

First shipment of the plates for trailers has been received. Pleasure car and truck tags will arrive here within the next week or ten days.

No more 1925 plates will be issued from the local offices, all applications for the remainder of the year being sent to the state license bureau at Columbus. Hilbert has returned to Columbus about 30 sets of plates which were on hand when notice was received to discontinue distribution. Transfers, duplicate tags and certificates of registration for old plates are still available at the local office, however.

The 1926 licenses will be sold at reduced rates, in compliance with the Lipp law, passed at the last session of the legislature. Tags for pleasure cars will cost $4, $6 and $10, depending upon the horse-power of the machine.

Rates for Trucks.

The rate for trucks is based entirely upon the weight. For trucks weighing 2,500 pounds or less, the rate is 70 cents 100 pounds; for those between 2,500 and 6,000 pounds, 90 cents per 100 pounds; for those from 6,000 to 9,000 pounds, $1 per 100 pounds; for those of 9,000 pounds and over, $1.15 per 100 pounds.

Applicants must present a bill of sale, which has been recorded, when application is made for a license. Tags will be refused when such bill is not available. Car owners having bills of sale, which have not been recorded at Lisbon, are advised to forward both copies to the recorder's office, together with a 25-cent fee and a self-addressed stamped envelope.

Deputy registrars also have been furnished with a list of cars, which were reported for taxation on or before April 12, of this year. Instructions have been issued to refuse license plates to owners whose names are not shown on the list.

Suicides Increasing In British Kingdom; Hanging Common Form

LONDON—Suicides are increasing in England and Wales, according to returns issued by the authorities. The number of suicides per million among men in England and Wales in 1924 was 157, compared with 147 10 years previously, and that of women 54 against 49. Suicides of women numbered 1,062, compared with 918 in 1894.

The returns show that the most common form of committing suicide among men is by hanging, and the use of poison among women. Asphyxiation by gas is finding many recruits.

Movieless Sunday For Dover

DOVER, O., Dec. 1.—Its "blue Sunday" instead of "Monday" for Dover, according to Mayor P. J. Robart, today.

Opening the "movies" last Sunday to see how the citizenry would react Mayor Robart found out it did just that.

The Re-action from the church people was particularly poignant and the mayor says future Sundays will be movieless.

a young man from the stag line does wander in on his way home from the ball, he is soon so "soused" that he doesn't even try to talk and therefore he doesn't matter.

It's a hard world for those born with money, and expecting brains and society to mix.

There is no such mixture.

Lady Astor is horrified by the loss of a few lives in a sunken submarine and wants to abolish submarines.

Great Britain, at the Washington conference which made Uncle Sam foolish, asked the powers to do away with submarines. That was natural, for, at that time, flying machines not being well understood, the submarine was the one enemy of the British battleship and British maritime trade.

But why should Senator Borah or any American want to abolish the submarine?

We shall never use submarines to attack anybody. But we ought to have plenty of them to meet enemy ships coming here with loads of flying machines to be released near our coast.

Senator Borah, who fortunately for this country, is head of the committee on foreign affairs, should look at Mesopotamia, North Africa, China, Russian and a few other spots on the globe, and realize that the talk about "abolishing war' is childish.

You don't talk about "abolishing crime," for that would mean changing human nature and would require perhaps half a million years.

Instead of talking nonsense about "abolishing crime," we maintain a police force and prisons to deal with crime.

Similarly we should have submarines, flying machines and well-trained officers to deal with war. War is to nations what crime is to individuals. And while sentiment is beautiful, in the abstract, it should not throttle off common sense.

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, Dec. 1.—With the exception of the railroad stocks and a few of the industrials and specialties, stock prices settled to lower levels in the early trading today. Railroad shares continued the upward movement which was in progress at the close of yesterday's session, the western stocks being helped by the announced decision of the interstate commerce commission, granting an increase of about 6 cents a hundred pounds on grain products from Colorado to destinations in Michigan and Wisconsin. Market rumors credited the forthcoming address to congress by President Coolidge as being very favorable to the railroads, particularly the proposed amalgamations of strategic lines.

The convening of a session of congress is generally regarded as a bearish factor in the stock market, since it is expected to give disagreeable and the so-called radical members of congress an opportunity to air their views before the country, and force undesirable changes in new legislative measures. Combined with the temporary tightening of call money nad the uncertainty over the reserve bank rediscount rate, anticipitation of reopening of confress next Monday was held responsible for a considerable portion of speculative selling today.

Legion Members Plan Erection of Community Christmas Tree

War Veterans Will Request City for Permission to Place it in Center of Diamond.

East Liverpool will have a community Christmas tree, this year, through the efforts of East Liverpool post No. 4, American Legion.

If permission is obtained, the tree will be erected in the center of the Diamond. Should city officials frown upon this plan, it will be placed in another location as near the center of the city as possible.

This decision was reached at the meeting of the post last evening. A committee consisting of W. S. Foulks, Lex Ferris, Robert Baur, Cecil Pearce and Dennis F. Burke was named to arrange for the erection and decoration of the tree.

The post plans to secure its tree, at least 25 feet in height, near Sprucevale in St. Clair township. Merchants are to be asked to furnish the decorations. The tree will be illuminated at night with a hundred or more colored electric lights.

Installation of officers took place at the meeting last evening, Samuel Adams, a past commander of Wellsville post No. 70, being installing officer. The new officers are: Commander, Ray T. Adam; first vice commander, Robert Baur; second vice commander, D. F. Burke; adjutant, W. S. Foulks; treasurer, B. F. McKeever; historian, C. B. Applegate; chaplain, Rex Ferris; sergeant - at - arms, George Brownlee.

The members of the post will entertain their wives and friends at a meeting in the Legion hall next Monday evening.

COOLIDGE WILL ANSWER LEWIS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—President Coolidge will reply in a few days to the recent letter of John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, in which he hinted at a bituminous miners' strike unless the government interceded to compel the operators to live up to the Jacksonville wage agreement.

The president told callers today that he had refrained from answering Lewis' letter for fear of complicating the negotiations being conducted to end the anthracite strike by Governor Pinchot, of Pennsylvania.

Coal Operators Shun Peace, Gov. Pinchot Tells Newspapermen

DUBOIS, Pa., Dec. 1.—In turning down the proposal for a settlement of the anthracite coal strike the operators have not only shunned industrial peace, they have declared for war," Governor Gifford Pinchot declared on his arrival here to inspect state institutions.

The Pennsylvania governor, whose peace offer the miners accepted said he had not been advised officially of the operators' refusal to consider his plan. Until this is received, which probably will not be before the governor returns to Harrisburg next week, he would make no further comment and declined to disclose his next step in attempting to break the deadlock.

HARRISBURG, Pa., Dec. 1.—Hopes of an early settlement of the hard coal strike appeared to be as remote to day, after the sharp rejection of Gov. Gifford Pinchot's peace plan by the operators, as when the strike went into effect September 1.

In fact, the belief was freely expressed that a long, bitter fight between the United Mine Workers of America and the anthracite operators is in prospect.

Briand Pledges Peace.

When the treaties had been signed M. Briand, speaking from his seat, declared that he represented the majority of the French people in their desire for peace and their hatred of war and he assured the signatories that France would do all in her power to make the treaties a success and to prevent war.

Premier Baldwin of Great Britain, who had witnessed the signing of the treaties, made a brief speech, declaring that the treaties have laid the foundation for world peace, so long sought.

Herr Stresseman and M. Briand are conferring this afternoon. It is understood Stresseman will urge the abolition of restrictions upon free travel between France and Germany. He will also recommend that there be closer co-operation between Germany, France and Great Britain for the development of civil aviation.

MITCHELL TRIAL SCENE OF ROW

Defense Counsel Objects to Remark of Court Member.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1. — Another heated row broke at the Col. William Mitchell court-martial today when Representative Frank R. Reid (R.) of Illinois, defense counsel, objected to remarks by Maj. Gen. William S. Graves, a member of the court.

The exchange between opposing sides became so acrimonious that Maj. Gen. Robert L. Howze, president of the court, ordered the room cleared.

While Captain T. W. Yarnell of the navy was being examined by Reid, Graves mumbled a remark that scarcely could be heard ten feet away. Reid heard it, however, quickly turned to the court and announced.

"I will not have my cross-examination of a witness interrupted.

Because of the row, Reid moved Graves' removal by the court. After consultation in private, however, the court denied the motion, and Graves was permitted to remain as a member.

Reid's statement aroused Graves.

"I am not interrupting you and as a member of this court I refuse to be badgered by defense counsel," snapped Graves.

The new flare-up followed closely on the heels of a similar incident when Brig. Gen. Edward L. King called Reid's examination of a witness "a lot of damn rot."

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—A clash in the new congress between the Coolidge brand of economy and the Roosevelt ian theory of national preparedness appeared today as a probable outcome of the aviation controversy kicked up by Colonel William Mitchell, stormy petrel of the air service.

Through a maze of aviation problems, born of the Mitchell case, it was indicated today by administration leaders, will run the thread of President Coolidge's plea for reduced armaments and stricter federal economy. While surface issues will involve the wide sympathy for Mitchell and congressional demands for a greater air service, the background will reveal a new preparedness fight for a greater and more modern national defense. The ultimate result will be a clash between these two forces with the house and senate as the battlegrounds.

Record Rainfall in Miami.

MIAMI, Fla., Dec. 1.—Miami's record rainfall of 14 inches in less than 12 hours yesterday caused damage conservatively estimated today at seven hundred thousand dollars.

Most of the real damage was done to buildings under construction. In many cases building materials were washed away and wells in partially completed houses were reuined.

The Florida Light and Power company also suffered considerable damage to their lines and conduits.

Water, which stood one and a half feet deep in Miami streets yesterday, today had practically all vanished. A strong gale swept the city early today.

Steamer Goes Ashore.

KEYWEST, Fla., Dec. 1.—Key West felt no effects from the tropical disturbance that passed over the Florida keys at an early hour this morning. The disturbance, first detected over the western end of Cuba, and traveling at the rate of 200 miles every six hours and apparently headed for Key West, altered its course and passed over the middle Florida Keys to the southern Atlantic.

At midnight the P. Ando steamer Cuba, detained at this port, sailed for Havana.

The Mallory steamer San Jucinto from Galveston wirelessed that she would reach port at 10 o'clock this morning.

The Munson liner Red Bird, reported ashore off Miami, has been floated.

The weather bureau reported this morning that the tropical disturbance was moving northwestward in the Atlantic ocean.

Rhinelander Hiding Behind Family, Says Counsel for Bride

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., Dec. 1,—"No man has the right to hide behind the smoke screen of a long family history," shouted Lee Parsons Davis, counsel for Alice Jones Rhinelander, resuming his summation to the jury today in the closing chapter of the marriage annulment suit of Leonard Kip Rhinelander against his quadroon bride.

Davis dramatically contrasted the surroundings of young Rhinelander, of the New York Rhinelanders, and Alice Jones, "of an humble and poor parentage, a servant and the daughter of servants."

Davis sought to show that Alice could not have lead Leonard into their relationship against his wishes.

"Rotary should make a man keep the spirit of youth. If you are not keeping young you are not receiving the full benefits of the organization.

"Rotary increases your interest in community affairs. This is a great age for 'passing the buck' but a true Rotarian is always willing to do his share of things that pertain to community betterment.

"Rotary makes you proud of your business or profession.

STATE EMPLOYES TO SHOP EARLY

Gov. Donahey Endorses Plan in Letter to Departments.

COLUMBUS, Dec. 1. — Governor Donahey, as head of the largest business organization in the state, today set an example for employers throughout Ohio. He wrote heads of all state departments suggesting that they give their employes time for Christmas shopping early this month instead of waiting until the Christmas rush sets in.

The governor feels that state employes should be given an opportunity to do their necessary holiday shopping before the merchandise stocks in the stores are depleted. His letter this year was prompted by the fact that merchants throughout the state, in order to meet the demand of early Christmas shoppers, are displaying their holiday stocks earlier than usual. The governor's letter to department heads follows:

"This is the month of the Christmas season.

"Your employes will be asking you for a little time off to do their holiday shopping. Such requests usually come a day or two before Christmas.

"I am informed that this year the retail merchants of Ohio, in an organized way, are displaying their merchandise stocks earlier in the season than usual in order to encourage earlier shopping. This is an effort I heartily endorse and I wish you would pass the word to the employes of your department.

"Early shopping is not only advantageous to the shopper, but, what is more important, will tend to protect the health and strength of many thousands of retail clerks and salespeople and give them a merrier Christmas."

Commissioner Hilbert Prepares to Distribute New Tags

RATE IS REDUCED

Applicants Must Present Bill of Sale, is Warning.

Distribution of the 1926 series of automobile license plates will be started by Deputy Commissioner J. S. Hilbert on or about December 10.

First shipment of the plates for trailers has been received. Pleasure car and truck tags will arrive here within the next week or ten days.

No more 1925 plates will be issued from the local offices, all applications for the remainder of the year being sent to the state license bureau at Columbus. Hilbert has returned to Columbus about 30 sets of plates which were on hand when notice was received to discontinue distribution. Transfers, duplicate tags and certificates of registration for old plates are still available at the local office, however.

The 1926 licenses will be sold at reduced rates, in compliance with the Lipp law, passed at the last session of the legislature. Tags for pleasure cars will cost $4, $6 and $10, depending upon the horse-power of the machine.

Rates for Trucks.

The rate for trucks is based entirely upon the weight. For trucks weighing 2,500 pounds or less, the rate is 70 cents 100 pounds; for those between 2,500 and 6,000 pounds, 90 cents per 100 pounds; for those from 6,000 to 9,000 pounds, $1 per 100 pounds; for those of 9,000 pounds and over, $1.15 per 100 pounds.

Applicants must present a bill of sale, which has been recorded, when application is made for a license. Tags will be refused when such bill is not available. Car owners having bills of sale, which have not been recorded at Lisbon, are advised to forward both copies to the recorder's office, together with a 25-cent fee and a self-addressed stamped envelope.

Deputy registrars also have been furnished with a list of cars, which were reported for taxation on or before April 12, of this year. Instructions have been issued to refuse license plates to owners whose names are not shown on the list.

Suicides Increasing In British Kingdom; Hanging Common Form

LONDON—Suicides are increasing in England and Wales, according to returns issued by the authorities. The number of suicides per million among men in England and Wales in 1924 was 157, compared with 147 10 years previously, and that of women 54 against 49. Suicides of women numbered 1,062, compared with 918 in 1894.

The returns show that the most common form of committing suicide among men is by hanging, and the use of poison among women. Asphyxiation by gas is finding many recruits.

Legion Members Plan Erection of Community Christmas Tree

War Veterans Will Request City for Permission to Place it in Center of Diamond.

East Liverpool will have a community Christmas tree, this year, through the efforts of East Liverpool post No. 4, American Legion.

If permission is obtained, the tree will be erected in the center of the Diamond. Should city officials frown upon this plan, it will be placed in another location as near the center of the city as possible.

This decision was reached at the meeting of the post last evening. A committee consisting of W. S. Foulks, Lex Ferris, Robert Baur, Cecil Pearce and Dennis F. Burke was named to arrange for the erection and decoration of the tree.

The post plans to secure its tree, at least 25 feet in height, near Sprucevale in St. Clair township. Merchants are to be asked to furnish the decorations. The tree will be illuminated at night with a hundred or more colored electric lights.

Installation of officers took place at the meeting last evening, Samuel Adams, a past commander of Wellsville post No. 70, being installing officer. The new officers are: Commander, Ray T. Adam; first vice commander, Robert Baur; second vice commander, D. F. Burke; adjutant, W. S. Foulks; treasurer, B. F. McKeever; historian, C. B. Applegate; chaplain, Rex Ferris; sergeant - at - arms, George Brownlee.

The members of the post will entertain their wives and friends at a meeting in the Legion hall next Monday evening.

COOLIDGE WILL ANSWER LEWIS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—President Coolidge will reply in a few days to the recent letter of John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, in which he hinted at a bituminous miners' strike unless the government interceded to compel the operators to live up to the Jacksonville wage agreement.

The president told callers today that he had refrained from answering Lewis' letter for fear of complicating the negotiations being conducted to end the anthracite strike by Governor Pinchot, of Pennsylvania.

Coal Operators Shun Peace, Gov. Pinchot Tells Newspapermen

DUBOIS, Pa., Dec. 1.—In turning down the proposal for a settlement of the anthracite coal strike the operators have not only shunned industrial peace, they have declared for war," Governor Gifford Pinchot declared on his arrival here to inspect state institutions.

The Pennsylvania governor, whose peace offer the miners accepted said he had not been advised officially of the operators' refusal to consider his plan. Until this is received, which probably will not be before the governor returns to Harrisburg next week, he would make no further comment and declined to disclose his next step in attempting to break the deadlock.

HARRISBURG, Pa., Dec. 1.—Hopes of an early settlement of the hard coal strike appeared to be as remote to day, after the sharp rejection of Gov. Gifford Pinchot's peace plan by the operators, as when the strike went into effect September 1.

In fact, the belief was freely expressed that a long, bitter fight between the United Mine Workers of America and the anthracite operators is in prospect.

Rogers Producing company of Fostoria. The singing was led by Robert Baur with Miss Dorothy Larkins as accompanist.

Superintendent of Schools C. S. McVay will be a guest at next Monday evening's dinner meeting, which will be attended by the wives of club members. Music will be furnished by the Melody Monarchs, a junior orchestra, recently adopted by the club.

Briand Pledges Peace.

When the treaties had been signed M. Briand, speaking from his seat, declared that he represented the majority of the French people in their desire for peace and their hatred of war and he assured the signatories that France would do all in her power to make the treaties a success and to prevent war.

Premier Baldwin of Great Britain, who had witnessed the signing of the treaties, made a brief speech, declaring that the treaties have laid the foundation for world peace, so long sought.

Herr Stresseman and M. Briand are conferring this afternoon. It is understood Stresseman will urge the abolition of restrictions upon free travel between France and Germany. He will also recommend that there be closer co-operation between Germany, France and Great Britain for the development of civil aviation.

MITCHELL TRIAL SCENE OF ROW

Defense Counsel Objects to Remark of Court Member.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1. — Another heated row broke at the Col. William Mitchell court-martial today when Representative Frank R. Reid (R.) of Illinois, defense counsel, objected to remarks by Maj. Gen. William S. Graves, a member of the court.

The exchange between opposing sides became so acrimonious that Maj. Gen. Robert L. Howze, president of the court, ordered the room cleared.

While Captain T. W. Yarnell of the navy was being examined by Reid, Graves mumbled a remark that scarcely could be heard ten feet away. Reid heard it, however, quickly turned to the court and announced.

"I will not have my cross-examination of a witness interrupted.

Because of the row, Reid moved Graves' removal by the court. After consultation in private, however, the court denied the motion, and Graves was permitted to remain as a member.

Reid's statement aroused Graves.

"I am not interrupting you and as a member of this court I refuse to be badgered by defense counsel," snapped Graves.

The new flare-up followed closely on the heels of a similar incident when Brig. Gen. Edward L. King called Reid's examination of a witness "a lot of damn rot."

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—A clash in the new congress between the Coolidge brand of economy and the Roosevelt ian theory of national preparedness appeared today as a probable outcome of the aviation controversy kicked up by Colonel William Mitchell, stormy petrel of the air service.

Through a maze of aviation problems, born of the Mitchell case, it was indicated today by administration leaders, will run the thread of President Coolidge's plea for reduced armaments and stricter federal economy. While surface issues will involve the wide sympathy for Mitchell and congressional demands for a greater air service, the background will reveal a new preparedness fight for a greater and more modern national defense. The ultimate result will be a clash between these two forces with the house and senate as the battlegrounds.

At midnight the P. Ando steamer Cuba, detained at this port, sailed for Havana.

The Mallory steamer San Jucinto from Galveston wirelessed that she would reach port at 10 o'clock this morning.

The Munson liner Red Bird, reported ashore off Miami, has been floated.

The weather bureau reported this morning that the tropical disturbance was moving northwestward in the Atlantic ocean.

Davis dramatically contrasted the surroundings of young Rhinelander, of the New York Rhinelanders, and Alice Jones, "of an humble and poor parentage, a servant and the daughter of servants."

Rotary Club Speech

"Rotary should teach every member the true meaning of the word 'service.' The motto of the organization, 'He profits most who serves best,' should be practiced and not preached. No one has the right to wear the Rotary button if he does not practice what the organization teaches.

"Rotary should make a man keep the spirit of youth. If you are not keeping young you are not receiving the full benefits of the organization.

"Rotary increases your interest in community affairs. This is a great age for 'passing the buck' but a true Rotarian is always willing to do his share of things that pertain to community betterment.

"Rotary makes you proud of your business or profession.

"Rotary will give you intimate personal friendship with your fellow members if you attend the meetings and keep in touch with the work of the organization.

"Rotary will increase your interest in boyhood. Support the boy's work committee in all its movements and you will profit by it."

STATE EMPLOYES TO SHOP EARLY

Gov. Donahey Endorses Plan in Letter to Departments.

COLUMBUS, Dec. 1. — Governor Donahey, as head of the largest business organization in the state, today set an example for employers throughout Ohio. He wrote heads of all state departments suggesting that they give their employes time for Christmas shopping early this month instead of waiting until the Christmas rush sets in.

The governor feels that state employes should be given an opportunity to do their necessary holiday shopping before the merchandise stocks in the stores are depleted. His letter this year was prompted by the fact that merchants throughout the state, in order to meet the demand of early Christmas shoppers, are displaying their holiday stocks earlier than usual. The governor's letter to department heads follows:

"This is the month of the Christmas season.

"Your employes will be asking you for a little time off to do their holiday shopping. Such requests usually come a day or two before Christmas.

"I am informed that this year the retail merchants of Ohio, in an organized way, are displaying their merchandise stocks earlier in the season than usual in order to encourage earlier shopping. This is an effort I heartily endorse and I wish you would pass the word to the employes of your department.

"Early shopping is not only advantageous to the shopper, but, what is more important, will tend to protect the health and strength of many thousands of retail clerks and salespeople and give them a merrier Christmas."

CARD OF THANKS.

Dimit and singers, neighbors of Ogden street, and Ridgeway avenue, Laughlin decorating shop, Dresden decorators and warehousemen, first and second grades of Grant street schol and Dr. Albert Michaels for their kindness and sympathy shown towards us in the sickness and death of our beloved little son, Billy.

YESTERDAY'S PUZZLE ANSWERED

American Theatre Offers Photoplay of Western Army Life

The social life of an army post in the West is faithfully depicted in "The Scarlet West," which is now being shown at the American theatre.

The period is that following the Civil War, when the various tribes of Indians infesting the Western plains rose in revolt against the encroachments of the white men seeking new homes. So aggressive did the redskins become that the government was compelled to send many regiments of soldiers into that territory to preserve order and prevent the extermination of the pioneers.

Forts were erected in many strategic points, and in most cases the officers took their families to these isolated spots. There were no theatres to attend; no operas or other attractions such as the big city boasts, but nonetheless there were many social events that helped to make life more bearable. And there were social distinctions as clearly defined as in a metropolis.

In the cast of this First National picture are such notable players as Clara Bow, Robert Frazer, Robert Ederson, Johnny Walker, Walter McGrail Gaston Glass, Helen Ferguson, Ruth Stonehouse, Martha Francis and Florence Crawford.

"The Scarlet West" was produced by Frank J. Carroll and directed by John Adolphi.

DOG LICENSE TAX IS GIVEN BOOST

Because of the provisions of a law passed by the last legislature, dog licenses for 1926 are now being issued by Deputy Tax Collector Randall Hamilton, and the initial rate of $1 for a male dog and $3 for a female dog will prevail up to Jan. 20 next only. The owners of dogs have been charged to obtain their licenses before Jan. 20 for on that date the penalty provided by the new law becomes operative.

The penalty that will be collected on all licenses on and after Jan. 20 next will be $1 on each license applied for, making the cost of a male dog after Jan. 20 $2 and the fee for a female dog $4.

During the last fiscal year a total of $6,744.24 was collected from this source by Mr. Hamilton and turned into the county treasurer to the credit of the dog and animal fund, from which all sheep claims are paid, and the balance going to the county board of education.

A number of dog owners were arrested during the last year for failure to take out dog licenses, and the provisions of the new law will be enforced on and after Jan. 20 next.

Hair Secrets

Gleamy, Thick, Wavy Hair in a Moment

A delightful surprise awaits those who try this. When combing and dressing your hair, just moisten your hair brush with a little "Danderine" and brush it through your hair. The effect is startling! Your hair will appear twice as thick and heavy—sparkling with life and possessing that incomparable softness, freshness and luxuriance, and just delicately perfumed.

While beautifying the hair "Danderine" is also toning and stimulating each single hair to grow thick, heavy and strong. Hair stops falling out and dandruff disappears. Get a 35-cent bottle of "Danderine" at any drug or toilet counter and just see how healthy and youthful your hair appears after this delightful, refreshing dressing.

An additional appropriation of $2,000 has been made by the county commissioners for the continuation of the tuberculin cattle test in this county, as provided by a law passed at the last session of the legislature. A detailed report of the work now in progress is being filed from time to time with the commissioners as is necessary under this law, the report being compiled by the office of the county farm bureau.

It is the opinion of the commissioners that the second tuberculin test will be completed before the close of the year.

Texas Woman Sick For Six Long Weeks

Mrs. Almond Finally Relieved of Miserable Stomach Trouble by Dr. Thacher's Liver and Blood Syrup.

When people came forward from all parts of the country and voluntarily offer their unqualified endorsement of a preparation that has received their sufferings and made them well and strong, no better evidence could be wanted as to its real worth to the sick and afflicted.

Such evidence is constantly being presented from sources widely separated, showing the great esteem in which Dr. Thatcher's Liver and Blood Syrup is regarded by people everywhere.

Among the latest of those who declare their unbounded faith in this preparation is Mrs. M. W. Almond, of Jacksonville, Texas, who writes:

"I was sick for six weeks and suffered so terribly I just couldn't keep anything on my stomach, I was under treatment all the time, but never got any better, so one day I begged my husband to get me a good stomach medicine from the drug store. He brought me a bottle of Dr. Thatcher's Liver and Blood Syrup. I had never taken it before and was so nervous and discouraged I began to cry and said I didn't want it. But he insisted on giving me a dose, and after taking a few doses I felt so much better I just kept on with it till now I am as strong and healthy as I could wish."

No doubt there are many people right here in East Liverpool who have the same trouble that afflicted Mrs. Almond and who would be as quickly relieved if they followed her example. For sale in East Liverpool by Carnahan Drug Co., and other leading druggists.

She roosts constantly on the fender or dashboard of an automobile belonging to a resident of the town, and nothing pleases her more than to speed along the country roads, perched on the fender of the car, wings ruffled, at a fifty-mile-an-hour rate.

The party had not been in the theater for more than fifteen minues before Percy had a crowd surrounding her. The strange fowl's admirers soon attracted the ire of a traffic cop, who, routing the surprised theater party, ordered them to get their "confounded circus off the highway."

So Percy got another speedy ride home, and in the morning laid an egg on the running board for her master in recompense for his ruined evening.

DOG LICENSE TAX IS GIVEN BOOST

Because of the provisions of a law passed by the last legislature, dog licenses for 1926 are now being issued by Deputy Tax Collector Randall Hamilton, and the initial rate of $1 for a male dog and $3 for a female dog will prevail up to Jan. 20 next only. The owners of dogs have been charged to obtain their licenses before Jan. 20 for on that date the penalty provided by the new law becomes operative.

The penalty that will be collected on all licenses on and after Jan. 20 next will be $1 on each license applied for, making the cost of a male dog after Jan. 20 $2 and the fee for a female dog $4.

During the last fiscal year a total of $6,744.24 was collected from this source by Mr. Hamilton and turned into the county treasurer to the credit of the dog and animal fund, from which all sheep claims are paid, and the balance going to the county board of education.

A number of dog owners were arrested during the last year for failure to take out dog licenses, and the provisions of the new law will be enforced on and after Jan. 20 next.

Hair Secrets

Gleamy, Thick, Wavy Hair in a Moment

A delightful surprise awaits those who try this. When combing and dressing your hair, just moisten your hair brush with a little "Danderine" and brush it through your hair. The effect is startling! Your hair will appear twice as thick and heavy—sparkling with life and possessing that incomparable softness, freshness and luxuriance, and just delicately perfumed.

While beautifying the hair "Danderine" is also toning and stimulating each single hair to grow thick, heavy and strong. Hair stops falling out and dandruff disappears. Get a 35-cent bottle of "Danderine" at any drug or toilet counter and just see how healthy and youthful your hair appears after this delightful, refreshing dressing.

An additional appropriation of $2,000 has been made by the county commissioners for the continuation of the tuberculin cattle test in this county, as provided by a law passed at the last session of the legislature. A detailed report of the work now in progress is being filed from time to time with the commissioners as is necessary under this law, the report being compiled by the office of the county farm bureau.

It is the opinion of the commissioners that the second tuberculin test will be completed before the close of the year.

Texas Woman Sick For Six Long Weeks

Mrs. Almond Finally Relieved of Miserable Stomach Trouble by Dr. Thacher's Liver and Blood Syrup.

When people came forward from all parts of the country and voluntarily offer their unqualified endorsement of a preparation that has received their sufferings and made them well and strong, no better evidence could be wanted as to its real worth to the sick and afflicted.

Such evidence is constantly being presented from sources widely separated, showing the great esteem in which Dr. Thatcher's Liver and Blood Syrup is regarded by people everywhere.

Among the latest of those who declare their unbounded faith in this preparation is Mrs. M. W. Almond, of Jacksonville, Texas, who writes:

"I was sick for six weeks and suffered so terribly I just couldn't keep anything on my stomach, I was under treatment all the time, but never got any better, so one day I begged my husband to get me a good stomach medicine from the drug store. He brought me a bottle of Dr. Thatcher's Liver and Blood Syrup. I had never taken it before and was so nervous and discouraged I began to cry and said I didn't want it. But he insisted on giving me a dose, and after taking a few doses I felt so much better I just kept on with it till now I am as strong and healthy as I could wish."

No doubt there are many people right here in East Liverpool who have the same trouble that afflicted Mrs. Almond and who would be as quickly relieved if they followed her example. For sale in East Liverpool by Carnahan Drug Co., and other leading druggists.

THE performances of two teams marked the 1925 football campaign among Columbiana county scholastic elevens. These two teams —East Liverpool and Salem—were the foremost contenders for the county championship from the start of the season until near the close when the Boone eleven triumphed over the Red and Black and emerged as the only undefeated outfit in the circuit.

East Palestine, Lisbon and Leetonia were comparatively easy for Salem, but the Red and Black fell prey to East Liverpool which also trimmed East Palestine and Lisbon.

Consequently, East Liverpool and Salem offered the greatest fields for the selection of the All-County mythical eleven.

It was a comparatively easy matter to select one team of 11 outstanding performers, but another and more difficult task to select a second. There was no preponderance of all-star material throughout the county.

In fact, there was a decided dearth of first rate backfield talent in comparison with other years, but the quartet that won such honors, if any, was so marked that its selection was inevitable and unquestionable.

Cornelli, the fiery, diminutive Lisbon signal caller is placed at quarter, with Coffee, of Salem, and Pignatore, of Wellsville, at the halves; and Paul English, of East Liverpool, at fullback.

English had little difficult in distinguishing himself with an aggregation that won eight out of nine games played. A somewhat similar situation exists with Coffee. Pignatore, of Wellsville, toting the ball for a green and inexperienced team that failed to win a game, had a difficult task, but nevertheless he qualified, especially in the game with Steubenville.

Cornelli is one of the real veterans of the Lisbon eleven, and one of its chief mainstays. He is a good field general and produced results despite the fact that he had only a light backfield to throw against opposing forces.

As a result of their greater experience, weight and all-around qualifications, Cosgrove, of Salem, and Mowery, Leetonia, draw the end assignments.

The two tackles, Older, of Salem and Bough, of East Liverpool, are what might be called "naturals.' They were the peer of anything in the county circuit, in the line of tackle. And perhaps the same situation exists at the guards and center. Banks, of East Liverpool, and Sheen, of Salem, both veterans, place at the guards, and Dick Larkins, who will captain East Liverpool's 1926 team, lands the center post.

East Liverpool lost another almost certain all-county star when Ralph Shaffer, halfback, went to the hospital in mid-season with a badly battered knee.

The champions are given four places on the first team; Salem gets four; and Wellsville, Leetonia and Lisbon one each.

HESTON BETTER THAN GRANGE

Far Better Back Than Illini Star, Declares Yost.

NEW YORK, Dec. 1.—Willie Heston was a finer back than Red Grange, and Ernie Nevers, of Stanford, is a better all around football player than Jim Thorpe, according to statements made respectively by "Hurry Up" Yost and Glenn Warner. They were made at a football dinner last night at the Hotel Commodore.

"Grange is good," Yost said. "I have seen him in five games, and, in four of them, he was just a pretty fine back. In the other, he was an elusive, hard-running shadow. But game in and game out, he couldn't compare to Heston, who didn't make 50 or 60 points a season but 200. He would have made a million in the modern game."

Warner supported his statement about Nevers in no uncertain terms.

"I coached both men, so I ought to know," he declared. "For all around ability, I have never seen another man like Nevers."

Wins Batting Laurels In Last Minute Spurt

Harry Heilmann Beats Out Tris Speaker in Closing Days of Campaign, But, Despite Heavy Clubbing, Could Not Attain .400 Mark, American League Statistics Show.

STATISTICS on team batting demonstrated the heavier hitting in the American league in 1925 over the 1924 season. In 1925 three teams batted better than .300, while in 1924 the high mark was .298; which happens to be the same as recorded for the fourth team in hitting the past season. In 1925 five teams scored more than 800 runs, Detroit leading by topping the 900 mark and St. Louis second with but a few under. In 1924 Detroit was the only team to score more than 800 runs.

Detroit, the team batting leader of 1924, had to be content with third place in 1925, both the Athletics and the champion Senators topping the Tigers. The Athletics take the 1925 honors with a team percentage of .307. The Atheltices also made most hits, but did not lead in total bases, that honor going to the St. Louis Browns, who tied with the New York Yankees for homers and were the leaders in two-base hits. Detroit made most three-base hits.

Washington shaded Chicago slightly in number of bases stolen, but the White Sox were not beaten at that because they were not trying, as they tied the Senators in number of men caught attempting to steal. Chicago led in sacrifice hits. Detroit again had most runners left on bases, in number only however, for the Cleveland team had only one less in one less game played.

The batting percentage of the Boston Red Sox, a poor last in offensive work, was eleven points less than the same team registered the year before, when it also brought up the rear in batting.

Individual Batting.

With all the heavy hitting of the 1925 season in the American league, the season's batting champion could not attain the .400 mark. That champion, Harry Heilmann, right fielder of the Detroit team, finished up with a terrific batting streak to achieve an average of .393. Thereby he beat out the veteran Tris Speaker, who had taken to the bench in the latter part of the season except to appear now and then as a pinch hitter. Speaker had retired from regular play with an average of .389. That finishing mark for him topped Al Simmons, the slugging center fielder of the Athletics, by three points.

Simmons stood between Speaker and that other veteran, Ty Cobb, who batted .378, thus making it twenty consecutive seasons that he had batted better than .300. As an indication of the increased batting averages down the line, Cobb's 1925 figures, which put him in fourth place among the regulars, were exactly those with which Ruth led the league in hitting in 1924.

Ruth not only surrendered batting honors, but also home run honors, which were taken for the 1925 season by his team mate, Bob Meusel, who registered 33 round trip hits. In percentage of homers per game played, however, Ruth still was supreme.

Ruth's honors as a run-getter were taken the past season by Johnny Mostil, center fielder of the Chicago White Sox, who also led in stealing bases. Total base honors went to Al Simmons, by a considerable margin. Most three-base hits were made by Leon Goslin of Washington; Marty McManus of St. Louis led in two-base hits by one over Simmons and Earl Sheely, who tied for second place in this respect. Stanley Harris led in sacrifice hits. Simmons also made most hits, falling but a few short of the record for hits made by George Sisler in 1920.

That Mostil was always trying when on bases is indicated by the records of "caught stealing." The Chicago speed merchant was thrown out 21 times in attempts to steal.

There were four men in not enough games to be classed as regular players who were above Al Simmons in percentage. This quartet was led by Chester Falk of St. Louis, who failed as a pitcher, but developed surprising batting powers, as his mark of .625 indicates. He went to bat but eight times, though taking part in 17 games, and made five hits, all singles. Benny Tate and Walter Johnson of Washington and Tony Rego of St. Louis were the other "nominal" leaders, each with figures above .400.

A feature of the American league batting averages is the liberal sprinkling of younger players among the veterans who have year after year shown the way. Among these new men who did notable hitting were Simmons, Wingo, French, Paschal and Harry Rice.

Quality—and nothing else but!

QUALITY—that's Prince Albert all over. Just about the finest, kindest tobacco that ever tumbled into a briar or corncob. We said "kindest." That means P. A.'s consideration for your tongue and throat. No bite. No parch. Nothing but cool comfort, refreshing as a breeze from the sea.

P. A. can't bite or parch. The Prince Albert process takes care of that. You can go to it from the minute you finish breakfast until you sign off at night. Slow or fast. P. A.'s quality makes you want to smoke pipe-load after pipe-load. You'll never say "quit," and that's a fact.

Yes, sir! You'll have the little old world by the tail when you sign up with this big-league smoke. Sitting pretty and no mistake. Cool and sweet and fragrant, P. A. sifts into your system and knocks pipe-peeves galley west.

Quality, you bet. And quantity too. You get TWO full ounces to the tin when you buy Prince Albert. (Look at the U. S. revenue stamp.) Let's get going. Slip into top-speed and head for the shop that hands out smoke-gladness in tidy red tins, marked "Prince Albert." Today!

P. A. is sold everywhere in tidy red tins, pound and half-pound tin humidors, and pound crystal-glass humidors with sponge-moistener top. And always with every bit of bite and parch removed by the Prince Albert process.

Look at the U. S. revenue stamp—there are TWO full ounces in every tin.

PRINCE ALBERT

—no other tobacco is like it!

Wooster College Grants Coach Boles Year's Leave of Absence

By STANLEY D. KOCH.

CLEVELAND, Dec. 1.—Nor did the surprises of the 1925 Ohio conference football season end with the season's close.

Even after the schedule had been buried away and the records added to the musty pile that have accumulated for years, there was still another shock to add to the usual serenity of the gridiron year. It wasn't enough to have all the unpicked teams wallop all the choice selections and to have the proverbial underdog bite his way to victory, nor to have rain fall when all signs pointed to clear weather.

Now Wooster college steps out with a radical and commendable step in granting to Coach L. C. Boles a year's leave of absence as a reward and in appreciation for his faithful and exceptionally successful service as director of athletics. This is an innovation in Ohio conference circles and comes as a pleasant shock. The leave-of-absence stuff has been awarded to other members of the faculty, but in Ohio no athletic director has heretofore been honored.

When Louis C. Boles came to Wooster in 1915, he took over a mediocre team with an obscure record. In the intervening 11 years, Wooster football teams have won 73 of the 93 games played and tied seven, for a percentage of .849. In the 11 years, 58 times the Bolesmen have blanked their opponents and only one eleven, the Case team of 1916, has scored more than two touchdowns against them. Wooster has averaged 17½ points per game to the 3½ points of their adversaries during this period.

Real Title Winner.

Four football championships and three basketball titles have been his contribution to Wooster's records as well as the 7-7 tie with Ohio State in 1924. In his absence, which will take place after the college year, E. M. Hole, freshman coach, will direct athletics and coach basketball, while Arthur Murray will take over the football mentorship as well as baseball. Coach Boles plans a trip to California, accompanied by Mrs. Boles and Carmen, his daughter, and will spend his leave of absence visiting the west coast.

Wooster's record this past year included only the loss to Oberlin. After that game, Boles told the writer that he feared the results of the Denison, Mt. Union and Reserve games as well, but through the skill of his, the Woosterites emerged victorious in all of those contests.

As said before, it was a funny season. Ohio Wesleyan, of course, was the sensation. It had a margin at least of 24 points over every adversary and was perhaps that much superior to any eleven in the race. Oberlin, undefeated, was a unique and good team. Coach McCeachron's first year was undoubtedly a success, for he developed an outfit that worked together throughout. It wasn't sensational but it was methodical. All integral parts inter-related and the absence of any player found a capable substitute in his stead and the machine moved on without hesitation.

Mounts In-And-Outers.

St. Xavier, in its defeat of Kenyon, reached its highest pinnacle, for the last few games saw the Musketeers less effective than before. Kenyon, itself, had a remarkable year and with the one loss to the Saints at Cincinnati on a muddy field, the Episcopalians showed all kinds of class until the final game with Mt. Union at which time the Mounts ran wild and ferocious. The latter were a wonderful example of it-and-outers, playing championship football against Oberlin, Kenyon, and a few others, but losing twice through downright bad football.

One of the brilliant showings of the year was made by Baldwin-Wallace, which after a wretched start in which the first three games were dropped, the Berea eleven came back strong to cop the remaining five contests. Miami, Ohio and Cincinnati, the Oxford aggregation reaching its heights in the 30-0 win over Wittenberg, while Cincinnati ended its season in the proverbial blaze of glory by walloping Miami. Muskingum, Wittenberg, Case, Denison and Heidelberg showed good football at times, the Case season being a success in breaking the 14-year-old jinx which seemingly shaded every final game with Western Reserve. Of the remaining five elevens, Ohio Northern, Western Reserve, Akron, Otterbein and Hiram, their seasons were tragedies and therefore the least said the better.

WOOSTER COLLEGE

SEEK COLGATE FOR COAST GAME

PASADENA, Cal., Dec. 1.—Colgate, undefeated eastern eleven, will be offered a chance to play the University of Washington in the annual east-west football game in Pasadena's tournament of roses bowl New Years, it was semi-officially announced by the tournament committee today.

Official announcement of Colgate's selection was being withheld until acceptance was received from the New York college, it was stated.

In the event Colgate refuses to play, either Pittsburgh, Alabama or Tulane will be invited.

Jack Benefield, graduate manager of the University of Oregon and the committee's representative, is now in the east making arrangements for the selection.

GREAT VAULTER PLANS U. S. TRIP

Scandinavian May Follow Nurmi Methods.

By Davis J. Walsh.

NEW YORK, Dec. 1.—European lecturers have told us of our national faults. Nurmi showed us how to run and total an expense account. But apparently we have had less than enough.

A Scandinavian is coming to show us how to vault, an Englishman soon will be en route to teach us how to talk and a Dutchman stands ready to show us how to fly.

The old army game, so excellently exploited by Paavo Nurmi, of Finland, last winter is about to be tried out, on the good, old populace again and extended one-night stand by squads of amateur athletics once more is in prospect.

The writer is informed that Charley Hoff, of Norway, holder of the world's pole vault record, is making ready to visit us for a tour of inspection. Of course, the fact that Nurmi was persuaded to run from one end of the country to the other last year, so that the young idea in America might be educated and entertained, has nothing to do with Hoff's determination. He loves his pole vaulting and simply must obey that impulse.

14 Feet His Record.

If he reaches here in good condition and his style is not cramped by indoor competition, Hoff might very well prove a greater attraction than Nurmi. His present record is somewhat in the absurd neighborhood of 14 feet and, although he hardly could hope to dally with this figure indoors, the world's record on the boards would seem to be his for the asking.

However, Hoff's line is broader and more versatile than the mere detail of seizing one stick and jumping over another. He is one of the best broad jumpers in the game and a middle distance runner who takes rank with Liddell, Lowe, Martin, the Swiss, and other European stars.

Hoff injured his heel prior to the last Olympic games at Paris and, therefore, was unable either to vault or jump. But in spite of a decided limp, he qualified in both the 400 and 800 metre runs and experts agreed that in condition, he might have won either or both.

If he starts that kind of thing around these parts, he will suffer an immediate rush of promoters to the head and the Nurmi tour, so prolific of records and recriminations, may be enacted all over again.

Will Have Company.

Hoff will have several collaborators, including Adrian Paulen, of Holland, and George Goodwin, of England. The latter is a walker but America will forgive him. In fact, it will pay to see him do it. He is said to be considerably faster than Frigerio, the Italian, who amused us last year but didn't beat us with any degree of consistency. Goodwin, however, lacks Frigerio's endurance and, therefore, will engage Willie Plant over the shorter distances.

Paulen didn't cause Holland to tear down its dykes by his running at the Olympic games, but he came over here last summer and ran right over Helffrich, Marsters and Holden in the stretch drive of a special half mile race. This performance entitled him to sit in the old army game for one more hand, at least.

THREE QUINTS AT COLUMBIANA

Sunday School Cage League Also Planned.

COLUMBIANA, Dec. 1.—If all plans now under consideration materialize, Columbiana basketball fans will have their appetite appeased the coming season. In addition to the High school teams, there will be two first-class independent teams, and a church league. It is also reported that New Waterford High school will support teams this year and will use the local gym for their games, as no suitable place is available in New Waterford. Thus it will be seen that a few nights set aside for practice, the local floor will be in use every night in the week except Sunday. It is probable that the High school teams will commence practice next week under the direction of Coach Edgar Miller, after a week's rest following the close of the football season. If Coach Miller is as good at developing a basketball team from the boys available as he was in football there should be a fair boys' team molded from inexperienced material, as all of last year's fast team have graduated. There will be no cause for worry about the girl's team, as practically all last year's team will be back.

Columbiana's new independent team, the Central Markets, sponsored by D. T. Stevens, held their first practice Monday evening in the High school gymnasium. Four members of last year's C. H. S. team will play in this group, as follows: Burkle, Crumbacher, forwards, Rupert, center, and Metz, guard. The fifth position will be fought for by Benninghoff, former C. H. S. and Miller Bros. player; "Bob" Russell, formerly of Orrville; Hassler, teacher at Fairfield Centralized school; McFadden, and possibly others. Russell Crumbacher was elected Captain Monday evening and Clarence Rohrer will be manager. Games will be played both at home and abroad with the fastest independent teams in the district, including Youngstown, the local games being held on Wednesday evenings as a double bill with the Miller Bros. team and their opponents. Miller Bros. club, under the efficient management of Dent Graham, will be represented by practically the same team as last year, with the exception of Delbert Hoover, who will probably blossom out this year as a referee. His many years of experience as a player and amateur refree should fit him well for this position. The other players who will be back in addition to Manager Graham, are: Hawkins, McMaster, Anderson, Maddox and Robinson, with other additions to be made later. A triple bill will probably hold forth on Wednesday nights as the Church league games will be used as preliminaries to the two big games.

20,000 Tickets Sold For Grange's Debut Before Gotham Fans

NEW YORK, Dec. 1.—Upward of 20,000 tickets for Red Grange's debut in New York on Sunday already have been sold, according to officials of the New York Giants, who have been kept busy since last week attending to the demand for tickets at the Giants' downtown offices, at the Polo grounds and at a local sports goods house. There will be accommodations for more than 65,000 when Grange takes the field with the Chicago Bears against the New York Giants in a national football league contest.

Tight Celluloid Suit Forever Encases Boy With Broken Spine

LONDON.—To be encased in a tight-fitting suit of celluloid for the remainder of his life is the fate of an East London Boy Scout, Jimmy King, aged fifteen, who has just sailed for South Africa after undergoing treatment in England for a broken spine.

The boy received his injury three years ago when some fellow scouts jumped on his back while he was sleeping. For three years he lay on his back helpless and in May last he traveled 6,000 miles to England on a stretcher to be treated by Sir Robert Jones, a famous spine specialist.

He will have to sleep in his jacket, but he is delighted because he will be able to do light work and will be able to walk easily.

A golf course of nine holes is being built in Venice on the island of Lido.

Wooster College Grants Coach Boles Year's Leave of Absence

By STANLEY D. KOCH.

CLEVELAND, Dec. 1.—Nor did the surprises of the 1925 Ohio conference football season end with the season's close.

Even after the schedule had been buried away and the records added to the musty pile that have accumulated for years, there was still another shock to add to the usual serenity of the gridiron year. It wasn't enough to have all the unpicked teams wallop all the choice selections and to have the proverbial underdog bite his way to victory, nor to have rain fall when all signs pointed to clear weather.

Now Wooster college steps out with a radical and commendable step in granting to Coach L. C. Boles a year's leave of absence as a reward and in appreciation for his faithful and exceptionally successful service as director of athletics. This is an innovation in Ohio conference circles and comes as a pleasant shock. The leave-of-absence stuff has been awarded to other members of the faculty, but in Ohio no athletic director has heretofore been honored.

When Louis C. Boles came to Wooster in 1915, he took over a mediocre team with an obscure record. In the intervening 11 years, Wooster football teams have won 73 of the 93 games played and tied seven, for a percentage of .849. In the 11 years, 58 times the Bolesmen have blanked their opponents and only one eleven, the Case team of 1916, has scored more than two touchdowns against them. Wooster has averaged 17½ points per game to the 3½ points of their adversaries during this period.

Real Title Winner.

Four football championships and three basketball titles have been his contribution to Wooster's records as well as the 7-7 tie with Ohio State in 1924. In his absence, which will take place after the college year, E. M. Hole, freshman coach, will direct athletics and coach basketball, while Arthur Murray will take over the football mentorship as well as baseball. Coach Boles plans a trip to California, accompanied by Mrs. Boles and Carmen, his daughter, and will spend his leave of absence visiting the west coast.

Wooster's record this past year included only the loss to Oberlin. After that game, Boles told the writer that he feared the results of the Denison, Mt. Union and Reserve games as well, but through the skill of his, the Woosterites emerged victorious in all of those contests.

As said before, it was a funny season. Ohio Wesleyan, of course, was the sensation. It had a margin at least of 24 points over every adversary and was perhaps that much superior to any eleven in the race. Oberlin, undefeated, was a unique and good team. Coach McCeachron's first year was undoubtedly a success, for he developed an outfit that worked together throughout. It wasn't sensational but it was methodical. All integral parts inter-related and the absence of any player found a capable substitute in his stead and the machine moved on without hesitation.

Mounts In-And-Outers.

St. Xavier, in its defeat of Kenyon, reached its highest pinnacle, for the last few games saw the Musketeers less effective than before. Kenyon, itself, had a remarkable year and with the one loss to the Saints at Cincinnati on a muddy field, the Episcopalians showed all kinds of class until the final game with Mt. Union at which time the Mounts ran wild and ferocious. The latter were a wonderful example of it-and-outers, playing championship football against Oberlin, Kenyon, and a few others, but losing twice through downright bad football.

One of the brilliant showings of the year was made by Baldwin-Wallace, which after a wretched start in which the first three games were dropped, the Berea eleven came back strong to cop the remaining five contests. Miami, Ohio and Cincinnati, the Oxford aggregation reaching its heights in the 30-0 win over Wittenberg, while Cincinnati ended its season in the proverbial blaze of glory by walloping Miami. Muskingum, Wittenberg, Case, Denison and Heidelberg showed good football at times, the Case season being a success in breaking the 14-year-old jinx which seemingly shaded every final game with Western Reserve. Of the remaining five elevens, Ohio Northern, Western Reserve, Akron, Otterbein and Hiram, their seasons were tragedies and therefore the least said the better.

SEEK COLGATE FOR COAST GAME

PASADENA, Cal., Dec. 1.—Colgate, undefeated eastern eleven, will be offered a chance to play the University of Washington in the annual east-west football game in Pasadena's tournament of roses bowl New Years, it was semi-officially announced by the tournament committee today.

Official announcement of Colgate's selection was being withheld until acceptance was received from the New York college, it was stated.

In the event Colgate refuses to play, either Pittsburgh, Alabama or Tulane will be invited.

Jack Benefield, graduate manager of the University of Oregon and the committee's representative, is now in the east making arrangements for the selection.

GREAT VAULTER PLANS U. S. TRIP

Scandinavian May Follow Nurmi Methods.

By Davis J. Walsh.

NEW YORK, Dec. 1.—European lecturers have told us of our national faults. Nurmi showed us how to run and total an expense account. But apparently we have had less than enough.

A Scandinavian is coming to show us how to vault, an Englishman soon will be en route to teach us how to talk and a Dutchman stands ready to show us how to fly.

The old army game, so excellently exploited by Paavo Nurmi, of Finland, last winter is about to be tried out on the good, old populace again and extended one-night stand by squads of amateur athleties once more is in prospect.

The writer is informed that Charley Hoff, of Norway, holder of the world's pole vault record, is making ready to visit us for a tour of inspection. Of course, the fact that Nurmi was persuaded to run from one end of the country to the other last year, so that the young idea in America might be educated and entertained, has nothing to do with Hoff's determination. He loves his pole vaulting and simply must obey that impulse.

14 Feet His Record.

If he reaches here in good condition and his style is not cramped by indoor competition, Hoff might very well prove a greater attraction than Nurmi. His present record is somewhat in the absurd neighborhood of 14 feet and, although he hardly could hope to dally with this figure indoors, the world's record on the boards would seem to be his for the asking.

However, Hoff's line is broader and more versatile than the mere detail of seizing one stick and jumping over another. He is one of the best broad jumpers in the game and a middle distance runner who takes rank with Liddell, Lowe, Martin, the Swiss, and other European stars.

Hoff injured his heel prior to the last Olympic games at Paris and, therefore, was unable either to vault or jump. But in spite of a decided limp, he qualified in both the 400 and 800 metre runs and experts agreed that in condition, he might have won either or both.

If he starts that kind of thing around these parts, he will suffer an immediate rush of promoters to the head and the Nurmi tour, so prolific of records and recriminations, may be enacted all over again.

Will Have Company.

Hoff will have several collaborators, including Adrian Paulen, of Holland, and George Goodwin, of England. The latter is a walker but America will forgive him. In fact, it will pay to see him do it. He is said to be considerably faster than Frigerio, the Italian, who amused us last year but didn't heat us with any degree of consistency. Goodwin, however, lacks Frigerio's endurance and, therefore, will engage Willie Plant over the shorter distances.

Paulen didn't cause Holland to tear down its dykes by his running at the Olympic games, but he came over here last summer and ran right over Helffrich, Marsters and Holden in the stretch drive of a special half mile race. This performance entitled him to sit in the old army game for one more hand, at least.

THREE QUINTS AT COLUMBIANA

Sunday School Cage League Also Planned.

COLUMBIANA, Dec. 1.—If all plans now under consideration materialize, Columbiana basketball fans will have their appetite appeased the coming season. In addition to the High school teams, there will be two first-class independent teams, and a church league. It is also reported that New Waterford High school will support teams this year and will use the local gym for their games, as no suitable place is available in New Waterford. Thus it will be seen that a few nights set aside for practice, the local floor will be in use every night in the week except Sunday. It is probable that the High school teams will commence practice next week under the direction of Coach Edgar Miller, after a week's rest following the close of the football season. If Coach Miller is as good at developing a basketball team from the boys available as he was in football there should be a fair boys' team molded from inexperienced material, as all of last year's fast team have graduated. There will be no cause for worry about the girls team, as practically all last year's team will be back.

Columbiana's new independent team, the Central Markets, sponsored by D. T. Stevens, held their first practice Monday evening in the High school gymnasium. Four members of last year's C. H. S. team will play in this group, as follows: Burkle, Crumbacher, forwards, Rupert, center, and Metz, guard. The fifth position will be fought for by Benninghoff, former C. H. S. and Miller Bros. player; "Bob" Russell, formerly of Orrville; Hassler, teacher at Fairfield Centralized school; McFadden, and possibly others. Russell Crumbacher was elected Captain Monday evening and Clarence Rohrer will be manager. Games will be played both at home and abroad with the fastest independent teams in the district, including Youngstown, the local games being held on Wednesday evenings as a double bill with the Miller Bros. team and their opponents. Miller Bros. club, under the efficient management of Dent Graham, will be represented by practically the same team as last year, with the exception of Delbert Hoover, who will probably blossom out this year as a referee. His many years of experience as a player and amateur refree should fit him well for this position. The other players who will be back in addition to Manager Graham, are: Hawkins, McMaster, Anderson, Maddox and Robinson, with other additions to be made later. A triple bill will probably hold forth on Wednesday nights as the Church league games will be used as preliminaries to the two big games.

NEW YORK, Dec. 1.—Upward of 20,000 tickets for Red Grange's debut in New York on Sunday already have been sold, according to officials of the New York Giants, who have been kept busy since last week attending to the demand for tickets at the Giants' downtown offices, at the Polo grounds and at a local sports goods house. There will be accommodations for more than 65,000 when Grange takes the field with the Chicago Bears against the New York Giants in a national football league contest.

Tight Celluloid Suit Forever Encases Boy With Broken Spine

LONDON.—To be encased in a tight-fitting suit of celluloid for the remainder of his life is the fate of an East London Boy Scout, Jimmy King, aged fifteen, who has just sailed for South Africa after undergoing treatment in England for a broken spine.

The boy received his injury three years ago when some fellow scouts jumped on his back while he was sleeping. For three years he lay on his back helpless and in May last he traveled 6,000 miles to England on a stretcher to be treated by Sir Robert Jones, a famous spine specialist.

He will have to sleep in his jacket, but he is delighted because he will be able to do light work and will be able to walk easily.

A golf course of nine holes is being built in Venice on the island of Lido.
